Opening Scene.

Dark and forbidding was the weather to-day, until an hour or so before the hour for the Convention's meeting. Nevertheless the wigwam was full by twelve o'clock, and half an hour later not a seat was to be had. The spectators in the galleries narrowly watched the main entrance for the appearance of notabilities. The first that arrived was Hiester Clymer, Democratic candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania, and he was greeted with loud huzzas. During the assembling of the Convention, knots of persons gathered around Reverdy Johnson, old Mr. Blair, Hendricks of Indiana, Dean Richmond, Gov. Orr, Generals Steedman, Couch, Custar and Means, and as soon as a prominent gentleman was descried on the floor by the throng in the galleries, the fact was made known by their cheers. When General Dix entered the welcome was tumultuous.

Called to Order.

After a few appropriate airs by the band, including "Should auld acquaintance be forgot," the Convention was called to order shortly after twelve.

On the platform were Chief Justice Woodward, of Pennsylvania, ex-Governor Bigler, Postmaster General Randall, Senator Doolittle, several prominent Democratic originators of the call, and other distinguished gentlemen.

The scene when the vast multitude had become still was grand and imposing. The ladies, whose attendance was sparing yesterday, turned out to-day in great numbers, and were attentive spectators of the proceedings.

A Fight for a Seat.

A breeze of excitement sprang up near the main entrance, which for a moment bid fair to produce something of a panic, but the commotion, which was caused by a fight growing out of a scramble for a seat, soon subsided, and the Convention listened attentively to the prayer.

Prayer by Rev. Holsinger.

The session was opened with the following prayer from the Rev. John T. Holsinger, of Greenville, Tennessee, the home of the President. Mr. Holsinger served three years as Chaplain of the First Tennessee Union Cavalry:

"Almighty God, our heavenly Father, Thou hast been our dwelling place in all generations, before ever the mountains were brought forth, or ever Thou hadst formed the earth and the world; from everlasting to everlasting Thou art God; we desire to come in the name of Thy son, Jesus Christ, and at this time to ask Thee for his sake to pardon our sins and forgive all our iniquities. In Thy providence we have been brought here together for a special purpose, and we ask Thee, kind Father to give us Thy spirit on the present occasion. Oh, that thou wouldst help us to feel the responsibilities that rest upon us, and as millions in after time are to be effected for weal or woe by the doings of this Convention, may it be endowed with infinite wisdom. We ask Thee to make us thoughtful for all Thy mercies. May we feel glad that the storms of war have passed by, and that we to-day are permitted, under the united arch of all our States, to be assembled and represented together. We ask Thee, kind Father, that that constellation of stars upon the blue field of our national emblem may be cemented; may it be what it is represented to be; may our nation be permanent; may it be lasting. In order that this meeting may be a success, we ask Thee, kind Father, to give us the spirit of our fathers. We ask Thee that their mantle may be upon us. May the spirit of '76, and from that time on until our difficulties, rest upon this Convention, and may God bless us altogether. We ask Thee for temporal prosperity to rest upon our land. May the storms of war die in the distance, and may peace abound everywhere. May our fields produce abundance; may our flocks multiply and our goods be increased, and may we appropriate them all to the benevolent purpose of promoting the good of our race and the glory of God. We ask Thee to bless our rulers. May they be men hating covetousness and fearing God; and especially we ask Thy blessing to rest upon the President of the United States. Give him the head, the heart and the hands to accomplish the mighty work assigned to him to perform; and we pray Thee now to encircle us in Thy arms while we are here; may we reflect that we are living creatures who, in a few years at most, will be called to sleep in the silence of the tomb, as our fathers sleep there to-day. Great God, impress our hearts with the solemnity of the occasion. May we be honest and candid men, having an eye single to the vast interests of our country. May we fear God and keep his commandments, and when done with the earth and the cares and toils of earth, may we die in peace with all our fellow men, and in favor with God, and finally, through the blood of the blessed Redeemer, may we shout the final song of triumph at the right hand of Majesty on high, where we will praise Thee forever and ever. Amen."

Senator Doolittle as Permanent President.

The devotions over, Montgomery Blair reported from the Committee on Organization, the officers of the Convention. The announcement of Senator Doolittle's name for President was greeted with prolonged and deafening tokens of approbation, the members rising to their feet, and the outside throng testifying their feeling in no less enthusiastic manner.

The Vice Presidents.

The cheers were repeated on the announcement of the Vice Presidents selected from New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Tennessee, Alabama, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Missouri, in the degree of their reputation or notoriety.

Reception of Senator Doolittle.

When Gen. Dix introduced Mr. Doolittle, the latter stepped forward, and thunders of applause rolled up from the benches, swelled by a vociferous chorus of shouts from the galleries. He spoke with great deliberation, and in a deep sonorous voice that reached every ear. When he addressed the gentlemen of the convention and fellow-citizens of the United States, the emphasis and pause upon the word United produced another round of loud and general applause. So with his reference to this convention as the crowning triumph of peace, which has victories no less renowned than wars. The allusion to the incident of yesterday, wherein Massachusetts and South Carolina intermingled, produced a similar effect, and when he declared that if the people of Massachusetts could be present here and witness the spirit prevailing, not a man of her present delegation in Congress would be returned, thousands of voices joined in the shout.

Report on Credentials.

When the President announced that the Committee on Credentials were ready to report through their chairman, General Steedman, all eyes were instantly turned in the direction of the Ohio delegation for a sight of that dashing Union officer. He remained standing until the report was read, and then moved the previous question on its adoption. There were contesting delegations from Maine, Delaware and New York, but the decision of the Committee created, it is believed, no ill feeling, particularly as it allows most of the contestants seats as honorary members.

Vallandigham Again.

The proposition of the Credential Committee not to have the names of the delegates read, gave rise in some quarters to the idea that it was not merely a movement for the dispatch of business, but was designed to cover up the circumstance that Mr. Vallandigham had not withdrawn. Such impression, however, was quickly removed by Mr. Groesbeck, of Ohio, who sent up to the clerk's desk to be read the letter of Mr. Vallandigham declining to act as delegate. There was great excitement when objection was made to the reading, and it was very evident that the curiosity of all to know what Mr. V. had to say would force its reading. The vote to suspend the rules to permit the letter to be read was almost unanimous. The reading was received with various demonstrations, until the point was reached when he says that he has yielded in order to produce harmony, when the cheers were enthusiastic and prolonged.

Enter Cowan.

This breeze over, Senator Cowan, of Pennsylvania, arose to offer his resolution for the appointment of a Committee on Address and Resolutions. The mere announcement of his name by the President called forth a torrent of applause, which swelled in volume for some seconds. Loud calls were made upon him to take the platform, but as he had no speech to make, and evidently shrank from ostentation, the invitation was declined with a smile and shake of the head. As he has rather a tall figure, very many had a chance above the other heads to realize the coveted wish to see a man who from humble parentage and backwoods origin, has grown to such present prominence.

Dispatch from President Johnson.

Perhaps the crowning feature of the day was President Johnson's dispatch in response to a telegram from Messrs. Browning and Randall. The reading of the Presidential dispatch produced a scene of the wildest and intensest excitement throughout the wigwam. The public mention of Andrew Johnson's name in a body of the character of the present Convention, would, of course, be sufficient to awaken enthusiasm. But in this instance his words of encouragement, so flattering to the hopes of his political friends naturally created the great delight which was exhibited in every conceivable manner, as by shouts and yells, swinging and throwing up of hats, stamping feet, clapping hands, &c. The climax was reached by the members of the Convention getting up on benches and giving three lusty cheers, participated in by the crowds of men in the galleries, and seconded by the ladies, who waved their pocket handkerchiefs.

Senator Browning Appears.

Not long afterwards Hon. O. H. Browning, of Illinois, who succeeded Douglas in the Senate, and who in a couple of weeks will take Secretary Harlan's place in the Cabinet, arose to supply an omission in the representation of Illinois on the Address Committee. He, too, was loudly cheered as his broad countenance and shining scalp appeared above the heads of the seated delegates in his vicinity. The session lasted for a couple of hours.

The Missouri Delegation.

The Missouri delegation, under authority of the Conventian, last night selected Thomas L. Price and Charles M. Elleard for members of the Committee on Finance, and Barton Able and James S. Rollins for National Executive Committee. A resolution was adopted that the delegation will wait on the President with a statement of facts existing in Missouri, requiring executive action for the protection of her law-abiding citizens against the radical State administration. The delegation also appointed Messrs. Rollins, English and Wilson to prepare an address to the President concerning the present administration of the War Department, with a view to the removal of Mr. Stanton.

To Pay the Piper.

The several delegations have been called on for funds to defray the expenses of the Convention, and of the work it proposes to accomplish. The States are to be assessed at an average of about three hundred dollars each.

Marshal Gooding Makes a Speech.

At five o'clock this afternoon a band played in front of the Continental, and loud calls were made by the crowd that assembled for Wood, Clymer, Vallandigham, Doolittle and Randall. None of these gentlemen appearing, Mr. Gooding, United States Marshal for the District of Columbia, came to one of the balconies and delivered a speech, in which he indorsed the President and his policy, and denounced the radicals in Congress, and spoke in flattering terms of the Convention now assembled and the men who compose it.

A Fenian Plea.

George Francis Train was next called out, and responded in a speech, for the Fenians and the President.

The Immortal J. N.

J. N. Free is on hand, ready for martyrdom. He has written a letter to Mr. Doolittle, telling him the Convention is a failure, and that the country will be ruined unless he can get the use of the wigwam to expound his theory.

Favorable for Serenades.

The evening is bright and clear, and the indications are for a large number of serenades

SECOND DISPATCH.

Special Dispatch to Pittsburgh Commercial.

PHILADELPHIA, August 15.

Final Adjournment.

The indications are that the Convention will adjourn to-morrow.

Committee on Address.

The Committee on Address and Resolutions will report to-morrow morning. The Sub-Committee of Thirteen is now in session at the Continental. Edgar Cowan is Chairman. Reverdy Johnson, Dixon of Connecticut, Browning of Illinois, Broadhead of Missouri, Graham of North Carolina, Raymond of New York, Davis of Kentucky, Hendricks of Indiana, and Sharkey of Mississippi are among the members of the Sub-Committee.

This afternoon addresses were received, one of them, a very lengthy one, by Raymond; another by Governor Sharkey, and still another, short and terse, presented by Mr. Cowan.

It was determined that the addresses and resolutions should be merely an amplification of the call for the Convention, but an exception was made for the admission of a resolution with reference to sympathy for oppressed people abroad, and an expression for a modification of the neutrality laws.

A Love Feast.

The Illinois, Missouri and Massachusetts delegations are having a love feast to-night, at the Assembly Building.

Indications to-night are that the Convention will get through to-morrow.

A National Party.

At a meeting of the Missouri delegation today, Louis V. Bogy, of St. Louis, offered a resolution instructing the Missouri Committee men to vote against any proposition looking to the formation of any national party other than the Democratic party. It was defeated by a vote of ten for and eleven against.

Speeches Last Night.

A number of speeches have been made tonight, none of them of sufficient importance to warrant a telegraphic report. Messrs. Lewis Campbell, of Ohio, James S. Rollins, of Missouri, and General Rosseau, of Kentucky, made strong Johnson addresses in a public Hall, and at Sixth and Race streets. A large and attentive audience was present.

A great deal of speaking was done at the Hotels. The crowds were of a mixed character, the Republicans, judging from the nature of the interruptions being in the majority.

Jack Rogers Stumped.

Mr. Rogers, of New Jersey, attempted a speech, but was compelled to desist. He commenced a bitter attack upon the Republican party as a "nigger-loving party" and "nigger-voting party." He had not gone far when he was assailed with yells and shouts of derision, intermingled with cheers for Thad. Stevens, General Geary, General Butler and other Radical leaders, and his friends fearing a riot, induced him to withdraw.

"Boys in Blue" Courting a Disturbance.

Speakers of a more moderate tone were permitted to proceed with now and then an interruption, inquiring "how about New Orleans," and once or twice a "hurrah for old John Brown." These came from an organization known as the "Boys in Blue," composed principally of returned soldiers, belonging to the Republican party, who seemed to have turned out in large force, and to be determined to court, rather than to shun a disturbance.

Vallandigham Won't Respond.

Attempts have been made to get Vallandigham out in response to a serenade, but he has declined to appear thus far. It is said by some that the "Boys in Blue" have determined not to permit him to speak, but I don't know how much of truth there is in the statement.

"Boys in Blue" Rule the Meeting.

The "Boys in Blue" seem to have taken possession of all the meetings in the neighborhood of the Hotels. A New York delegate is speaking from one of the balconies of the Continental, but the audience is constantly interrupting him with cries of "You are a liar;" "Hurrah for John Brown;" "How about New Orleans," etc. He asked his audience if they were in favor of negro suffrage, and they cried out, "Yes; niggers are better than rebels."

FROM ANOTHER REPORTER.

PHILADELPHIA, August 15.

The Permanent Organization.

PHILADELPHIA, August 15.—The National Union Convention reassembled at noon to-day. The wigwam was crowded with delegates and spectators. A large number of ladies were also present. Gen. Dix was in the chair. Rev. M. R. Holsinger, of Tennessee, opened the proceedings of the Convention with prayer.

Gen. Dix then said that the first business in order was the reports of committees appointed yesterday.

Mr. Blair, of Maryland, here rose and said: Mr. President: I am instructed by the Committee on Permanent Organization to make the following report: For President, Senator Doolittle, of Wisconsin. The announcement of the name of Mr. Doolittle was greeted with a storm of cheers.

General Dix, at the conclusion of the reading of the above report, introduced Senator Doolittle, who was received with the most enthusiastic applause.

Senator Doolittle's Speech.

Mr. Doolittle, on taking the chair, said: Gentlemen of the Convention and fellow citizens of the United States [Cheers.]—For the distinguished honor of being called upon to preside over the deliberations of this convention, I sincerely thank you. I could have wished that its responsibilities had fallen upon another, but relying upon that courtesy and generous confidence which has called me to the chair, I enter at once upon its duties, with an earnest desire for the success of the great cause in which we are now engaged. Among the great events of our own day, this convention, in my opinion, will prove to be one of the greatest, for peace hath her victories not less renowned than war. [Applause] and this convention is one of her victories—may I not say a crowning victory? [Cheers.] For the first time in six years a National Convention representing all the States is now assembled. Six long, weary years! As I look back on, what an interval it is of blood and agony and tears! During that period we have been engaged in the most gigantic civil war the world has ever seen; wasting our resources, drenching a thousand battle fields in fraternal blood, and carrying to their graves our fathers, our sons, and our brothers by hundreds of thousands; but, thanks be to Almighty God, the war is over. [Cheers.] Peace, blessed peace, has come. The assurances that we here witness tell us that peace has come, and come to stay. [Loud cheers.] Oh, my fellow citizens, if the whole people of the United States could see what we now witness, the North, the South, the East, and the West joining in fraternal association as friends and fellow citizens, our work would be done. [Cheers.] If they could have seen, as we saw Massachusetts and South Carolina [applause] by their full delegations, coming arm-in-arm into this great convention, enthusiastic applause; if they could have seen this body, greater in numbers and weight of character and brain than ever has assembled on this continent under one roof, melting to tears of joy and gratitude to commingle, there would be no struggle at the polls in the coming elections. [Applause.] When I remember that it was Massachusetts and South Carolina that, in the convention which framed the Constitution, voted against the abolition of the slave trade; that it was Massachusetts, in 1812, which, through some of her men, taught the doctrines of nullification which South Carolina reasserted in 1832, and in the form of secession again reasserted in 1860. When I call to mind that South Carolina fired the first gun in this contest, and that the veins of Massachusetts poured out the first blood in the struggle; and when I call to mind all these memories, and at the same time ask the people of this country to look in on this Convention, and see those two old States of the Union coming here in fraternal embrace, approaching the common altar of a common country, ready to make common sacrifice for the good of the whole, I say again, could the whole people of the United States witness this, there would remain no further work for us to perform. [Loud cheers.] If the people of Massachusetts herself could have witnessed it, not a single member would be returned to Congress from that State, [great applause] until he had given a most sacred pledge that he would do all in his power to recognize the equality and dignity of all the States under the Constitution, [cheers] including the sacred and inalienable right of every State under the Constitution to representation in both Houses of Congress. [Cheers.] Gentlemen of the Convention, I shall go into no argument on this occasion. [Cries of "go on."] The distinguished gentleman who preceded me, General Dix, has said all that I would desire to say, much better than I could say it. I indorse, and I take great pleasure in indorsing, all that he has said, sentence by sentence, word by word. [Cheers.]

Fellow citizens, unfortunately it may be, the whole people of the United States are not here to witness what is now transpiring, therefore the greater work still rests upon us. From this time until the next election we should be untiring in our exertions, and if, in the next Congress, if this shall continue to refuse this sacred right of representation to equal States, the next Congress shall recognize that right. When that is done, the Union is restored [cheers] and when the Union is restored, we shall be prepared, in my judgment, to enter upon a higher and nobler career among the nations of the earth than has ever yet been occupied by any Government upon which the sun of heaven has ever shone. [Loud cheers.] We shall stand in the vanguard of liberty and civilization. We shall lead the world by the light of our example to all the nations of the earth. [Great Applause]

Gentlemen, without detaining you any longer I shall at once enter upon the duties of the day.

The Vice-Presidents and Secretaries of the Convention were then invited to take their seats upon the platform. While they were doing so the band played several airs.

Report on Delegates.

General Steedman, Chairman of the Committee on Credentials, made a report, stating that there were no seats contested except the States of Maine, Delaware and New York, and that of those cases the committee had made the following disposition: The delegates elected by a meeting held at Portland, and headed by Governor Crosby, are entitled to admission as the delegation from Maine. The delegates elected at a meeting at Dover, on the 28th of July, 1866 are entitled to admission as delegates from Delaware, and the persons chosen at Wilmington, on the 10th of August, are to be admitted to honorary seats in the Convention. Gentlemen attending from the United Service Society of the soldiers and sailors of New York, and those elected by the New York delegation, represented by Mr. Samuel J. Tilden as chairman, are to be admitted to seats as honorary members. In consequence of the time that would be occupied reading the full list of delegates, its reading was dispensed with, and under the previous question the report of the Committee was agreed to.

A Lapsus Lingua.

Much amusement was caused by the Chairman inadvertently speaking of General Steedmen as the Senator from Ohio, and the slip of the tongue was characterized by some gentlemen as prophetic.

Val.'s Withdrawal.

Mr. Groesbeck, of Ohio, as the organ of the united delegation from that State, presented a letter of withdrawal from Mr. Vallandigham, and asked that it be read to the Convention. The Chairman intimated that that would require unanimous consent, and asked whether there was any objection. A delegate from New York rose and objected. [Loud cries of "Read it, read it."]

Senator Johnson, of Md., moved that the rules be suspended in order to allow the letter to be read. The rules were suspended, and the letter was read by the Secretary, as follows:

GIRARD HOUSE, PHILADELPHIA, August 15, 1866.

To the Chairman of National Union Convention:

SIR—I have this day received from the National Union Committee, through the Hon. Wm. S. Groesbeck, chairman of the joint Ohio delegation to your convention, a ticket of admission as a delegate from that State. The Hon. George W. Cook, chairman of the Democratic delegation from Ohio, has also communicated to me the following resolution, this morning adopted by that delegation:

Resolved, Unanimously, by the Ohio Democratic delegation, that we recognize the right of Hon. Clement L. Vallandigham, a duly elected delegate from the Third Congressional District of Ohio, to hold a seat in that Convention; that we should regard his exclusion from such seat as an unjust and unreasonable infringement of the rights of the Democracy of said District, and are ready to stand by him in the assertion of his rights, and the rights of his constituents; that we indorse most cordially the purity and patriotism of his motives and his fitness in every way to a seat in said Convention; yet, for the sake of harmony and good feeling in the same, and in the great ends for which it is called, we consent to his withdrawal from a seat in the Convention, if in his judgment his duty to his constituents shall justify such withdrawal.

Yielding to my own deliberate convictions of duty and right, to the almost unanimous opinion and desire of friends whose wisdom and soundness of judgment, and sincerity and purity of motives, I may not question, to the end that there shall be no pretext from any quarter for any contravened question or disturbing element in the Convention, to mar its harmony or hinder in any way the results to the cause of the Constitution, the Union and public liberty, which shall follow from its deliberation and action, I hereby withdraw from the Ohio Democratic delegation, and decline taking my seat in the Convention. I am profoundly conscious that the sanctity and magnitude of the interests involved in the present political canvass in the United States are too immense not to demand a sacrifice of every personal consideration, in a struggle upon the issue of which depends, as I most solemnly believe, the present peace and ultimately the existence of free republican government on this continent. Trusting that your deliberations may be harmonious, your proceedings full of wisdom and patriotism, and its results crowned with a glorious and saving triumph at the end to the great cause in which every sympathy of my heart is enlisted, I am, very respectfully, your obedient servant,

[Signed] C. L. VALLANDIGHAM.

Committee on Resolutions.

On motion of Senator Cowan, of Penna., a committee of two from each State and Territory was appointed to prepare resolutions and an address. The following was subsequently announced as the Committee: Hon. Edgar Cowan, Chairman; Maine, R. D. Rice and George M. Winslow; New Hampshire, B. Barnes and H. Bingham; Vermont, C. N. Dispatch from the President.

The Chairman announced a telegraphic dispatch from President Johnson, and directed the Secretary to read it. The announcement was the signal for the whole Convention and the greater part of the spectators to rise to their feet, and cheer vehemently for Andrew Johnson. After the applause had subsided the dispatch was read, as follows:

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 15, 1866.

To Hon. O. H. Browning and the Hon. A. H. Randall, National Union Convention, Philadelphia:

I thank you for your cheering and encouraging dispatch. The finger of Providence is unerring, and will guide you safely through. The people must be trusted, and the country will be restored. My faith is unshaken as to the ultimate success. [Signed] ANDREW JOHNSON.

The Neutrality Laws.

Mr. Carroll, of New York, offered the following resolution, which was referred, under the rule, to the Committee on Resolutions, without debate:

Resolved, That there is justly demanded a revision of our national neutrality law in consonance with the spirit of the age, the demands of commerce, and the spirit of the nation, and that it is the duty of Congress to comply with the public demand for such a revision.

The Resolutions.

Mr. S. Hays, of Illinois, offered a resolution directing the Committee on Resolutions to report in print, and to supply each member of the Convention with a copy of the resolutions at the time of their presentation. He proceeded to discuss the resolution.

Mr. Samuel J. Tilden, of New York, raised the point of order, that under the rule adopted the resolution must be referred without debate.

The Chair sustained the point of order, and declared that the resolution was referred.

Mr. Hayes, notwithstanding, continued to address the Convention. He did not expect the Convention to adopt any resolution or platform enforcing his opinion, or the opinion of the Democratic party, to which he belonged.

Mr. Pelys asked that nothing would be put in the platform to which a constitution and Union loving Democrat could not subscribe. [Some cheers and interruption.] He knew the sentiments of the Democratic party, and he believed that if there was a patriotic party in the country it was.

The Convention manifested its impatience by cries of question, and under another point of order the chairman decided that there was nothing before the Convention for its action.

Mr. Hays having appealed to the courtesy of the Convention to let him explain himself, went on to say that he had known of platforms having been adopted in moments of enthusiasm which were afterwards subjected to severe criticism, and all that he desired was that the resolutions and address which might be reported by the committee should first be printed and delivered to members, so that they might be discussed by the several delegates before they were called to act on them in open Convention.

The question of order was again repeated, and sustained by the Chair, that there was nothing before the Convention, and Mr. Hays accordingly subsided.

Mr. Homer, of Missouri, proposed a recess for an hour or two, but the proposition met with no favor, and was not passed.

Senator Cowan, of Pennsylvania, Chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, informed the Convention that the committee would not be ready to report finally before to-morrow morning. After several suggestions and propositions, it was decided that the session to-morrow commence at 10 A. M., in order to get through the business as soon as possible.

Memorials.

Mr. Bigler, of Pennsylvania, presented a memorial presented by a gentleman in his Congressional district, which was on motion referred unread.

Mr. Babcock, of Connecticut, also presented an address to the people of New England prescribed by members of the Louisiana, Mississippi and Missouri delegations, who were born in New England, which was also referred unread to the Committee on Resolutions, and then, on motion of Mr. Orr, of South Carolina, at a quarter past two o'clock the Convention adjourned.

The Excitement Abated.

PHILADELPHIA, August 15—Midnight.—The excitement in regard to the Convention has entirely subsided, now that it is known that there will be no speaking, and consequently no wrangling inside of the wigwam, and that the business will be entirely confined to the passage of resolutions and the adoption of an address. It is believed that the Convention will adjourn on Thursday afternoon. There were comparatively a small number of visitors to the wigwam today, most people being satisfied with reading the reports which are telegraphed to the center of business direct.

Address and Resolutions.

The Committee on Resolutions and the Address were still in session at nine o'clock this evening. It is generally believed that they will agree upon the address to-night, and that it will be reported to the Convention to-morrow morning, and that after its adoption the Convention will adjourn.

Speeches are being made to-night in front of the Continental Hotel, at the National Guards Hall, and at other places, by prominent speakers in favor of the Convention.

Names of Rebel Generals Applauded.

PHILADELPHIA, August 15.—Another meeting was held at the National Guard Hall this evening. The speakers were Lewis D. Campbell, of Ohio, and Major Rollins, of Mobile. A gentleman who was present informs us that at the mention of the names of Lee and Stonewall Jackson, there was loud and prolonged applause.

Vallandigham Called For.

The crowd in Chestnut street has been calling for Vallandigham all the evening, but he has not appeared.

Forney Serenaded.

Col. Forney was serenaded at his office, and made a short speech.

Arrival of A. H. Stephens.

ELEVEN O'CLOCK P. M.—Alex. H. Stephens arrived in town this evening, in company with his brother, Linton Stephens. He is the guest of R. J. Arundel, on Broad street.

There is no prospect that the report of the committee on resolutions will be made public until the meeting of the Convention to-morrow morning. It is understood to be of a very amicable character.

Vallandigham will probably be serenaded tomorrow evening.

THE PHILADELPHIA COLLECTORSHIP.

Ex-Gov. Johnston Presents Himself and His Credentials to Colonel Thomas—The Latter Declines to Relinquish his Post Until he Consults his Counsel.

PHILADELPHIA, August 15.—This morning Mr. Wm. F. Johnston, the newly appointed Collector of this Port, visited the Custom House to present his credentials. Colonel Thomas, the acting Collector, stated that there were grave doubts as to the validity of the appointment of Mr. Johnston under the peculiar circumstances of the case. The Senate had failed to act in the matter of his (Mr. Johnston's) appointment, and the question arose whether he (Col. Thomas), should of right relinquish his office to a gentleman who claims it upon so uncertain a tenure. He (Col. Thomas) had been appointed as a Republican, and he believed that he only echoed the sentiments of the Republican citizens of Philadelphia, in hesitating about relinquishing an office in which he had been placed by a Republican President, until the right of his successor was clearly established. Col. Thomas continued, saying, that he did not wish to appear captious, nor yet was he willing to sacrifice his legal rights. He would prefer, before giving a definite decision to see his counsel, who was now absent from the city. Mr. F. Carroll Brewster is the counsel of Col. Thomas.

FROM HAVANA.

Reformation of Maximilian's Ministry—He Desires Harmony.

NEW YORK, August 15.—The steamer Liberty brings Havana dates of the 9th.

Advices from Mexico confirm the statement that the Emperor has reformed his ministry. In a letter to the President of the Ministry, thanking him for his services, Maximilian explains that the change is made to secure unity and the pacification of the country, and says that it is in harmony with the mission of the Empress, and demonstrates that the Government acts in accord with its glorious allies. He then appeals for harmony of action among the people to sustain them.

Foreigners have been authorized to arm and protect themselves when the police are insufficient. Guerrillas overrun the country, committing serious depredations.

FROM INDIANAPOLIS.

National Teachers' Association—Welcome by Governor Morton—Proceedings.

INDIANAPOLIS, August 15.—The National Teachers' Association convened here to-day, President Wickersham, of Pennsylvania, presiding, and was welcomed to the State and city by Governor Morton. During the forenoon, Professor White, of West Virginia, read a paper upon "Educational Needs of Border States." In the afternoon the question, "What proportion of time should youths spend in school up to the age of sixteen," was fully discussed, after which Professor Phelps, of Winona, Minnesota, read a paper on the "Duties of an American State in respect to higher education." To-night President Wickersham delivers the annual address.

The Cleveland Plaindealer of Saturday evening says: "We neglected to note one incident of the execution yesterday. When it was observed that McConnell's neck was not broken and that he was dying from strangulation, Sheriff Nicolo slid down upon the rope to the knot, and, by a number of sharp jerks, tried to break the murderer's neck. This action did not seem to hasten McConnell's death, however."

On Saturday last, says the Sandusky Register the guillotine blade fell again in Delano's district, and C. P. Thus the destroyer progresseth!

A statement went the rounds of the papers a few weeks ago that the grave of Major General J. B. McPherson, at Clyde, Ohio, was unmarked, except by a single piece of board. We learn from the Clyde Times, of last week, that measures are being taken to erect a suitable monument to this fallen hero. A meeting of the citizens of Clyde was held on the 3d inst., and a committee appointed to report a plan for the permanent organization of a Monumental Association. The meeting was informed that a fund of about $6,000 is in the hands of a committee representing the Army of the Tennessee, and also that there is a fund in California of several thousand dollars, for the same purpose, ready to be appropriated.

The Sandusky Register of Tuesday says: Sunday evening Henry Lephard and wife were riding toward the city in a one horse wagon, on the Venice road, when a stranger desired to ride. Mr. L. kindly took him in, giving him a seat between himself and wife. When they had gone about two miles the stranger drew two revolvers and presented them at the breasts of Mr. and Mrs. L., demanding their money. Mr. L. gave him all he had, only $1 25, when the man pulled the triggers of both pistols, shooting Mr. L. through the wrist. The other pistol failed to go off. The robber then made his escape. No clue has been obtained of the villain.

On Sunday night last, says the Sandusky Register, a son of Mr. Moore, of Bellville, Richland county, was struck by lightning and killed. He was lying in bed with a little brother. The lightning passed down a rod, which was attached to the house, till it reached one of the supports by which it was fastened, when it passed through the wall, struck the headpost of the bed in which the boys were lying, passed around to the foot, and then down ... the boy, one of whose toes touched the footboard killing him instantly, and made its way off by the headboard. He was about seventeen years of age. The younger boy received a slight shock and tried to awaken his brother, when he discovered that he was dead. We understand they were sleeping in a feather bed.

On Saturday last, says the Cleveland Herald a woman traveling "under a cloud," arrived at the City Hotel, registered her name, and residence as Columbus. She desired to remain about one week and tendered the money in advance. The proprietor, totally unconscious of the circumstances connected with the case, accepted the money and gave the woman a room. It was not strange that the service of a physician was soon required to attend upon the advent of a little stranger. Both mother and child are doing well. The history of the case is fraught with sorrow, and the villain who could thus betray unsuspecting youth deserves severe chastisement.

The attendance is not large as yet, but more delegates are expected today. This afternoon at the great trotting fair there will be two races, the first for double teams, the second for mile heats, single. Weather cool and cloudy.

WONDERFUL ESCAPE.—A child in Ohio, nine years old, in a state of somnambulism, arose from her bed one night last week, at twelve o'clock, walked to a fourth story window and jumped out. In her descent she struck one of the iron rods used for the support of an awning. This rod gave way and threw her out from the house on the pavement; but she was unhurt, save the scraping and blistering of her hand, and the knocking out of two or three of her teeth. There were some scratches and bruises on her face, an abrasion of the skin on her breast, and a bruise on one of her knees.

WASHINGTON, August 15, 1866.

Restoration of Habeas Corpus.

Secretary Seward, to-day, returned from his visit to Auburn and relieved Acting Secretary Stanbery from the charge of the State Department. During the morning he had an interview with the President, and it is understood that immediately after Cabinet meeting on Friday next, the President's proclamation restoring the writ of Habeas Corpus throughout the insurrectionary districts, and virtually terminating the military occupation, which has been delayed on account of his absence, will be issued.

Secretary McCulloch's Order.

The order of Secretary McCulloch to redeem the temporary loan certificates will necessitate the immediate disbursement of seventy millions of currency, now held by the Treasury. Adding this amount to an already redudant currency cannot but have an important influence upon the market. As the policy of Congress restricts the Secretary from redeeming the United States currency in circulation, except to a very limited extent, contrary to his well known views on the subject, he has no option in the application of the surplus revenues of the government proposed. Whatever may be the effect, it is impracticable for him to discriminate between the certificates, and he has, therefore, decided to redeem all except those issued for clearing house purposes.

Public Lands.

Reports received at the General Land Office, state that at Junction City, Kansas, upwards of twenty-one thousand nine hundred acres were disposed of in the month of July; the greater portion for homestead, actual settlement, a part in satisfaction of Agricultural College scrip and bounty land warrants, and a small portion by cash sales.

Soldiers' Bounties.

The board of officers recently appointed by the Secretary of War, for the purpose of preparing rules and regulations for the guidance of disbursing officers in the payment of bounties to soldiers under the recent act equalizing the same, have not made their report, but are expected to do so some time the present week. It will, however, be some weeks, perhaps months, before any payments can be had under the law.

Applicants for Pardon.

Washington is very bare of visitors at present, but notwithstanding large numbers of persons were in attendance at the White House to-day to see the President. Many of these visitors are applicants for office, drawn here by the anticipation of a general change impending in the personnelle of the officials throughout the country. Very few appointments are being made just now, however, and those not of an important character.

Revenue Receipts.

The receipts of internal revenue to-day were about one million and a quarter dollars.

To be Held in Treasury.

It is understood to be the policy of Secretary M'Culloch to retain in the Treasury, for the present at least, the gold now held, and the daily receipts from customs, except in so far as disbursements may be required to meet financial necessities of the Government.

WASHINGTON, August 15.

RETURN OF SECRETARY SEWARD.

The Secretary of State has returned to this city after an absence of five days, on a visit to his home at Auburn, New York.

THE EXTRA BOUNTY.

The Paymaster General's office receives about fifteen applications per day from men who have served as volunteers, urging their claims to the extra bounty authorized by the last session of Congress. As there are no funds in the Treasury not already appropriated for other purposes, and as the Special Commission which has the subject under consideration has not yet made its report, there can be no payment be made under its provisions. ... nothing ... be done with the claims that are transmitted to the Pay Department for the additional bounty, except to file them so that they may be taken up in their order, when the arrangement for paying the claims are completed.

MISSOURI WAR CLAIMS.

The War Department has appointed John D. Stevenson, of Missouri, A. S. Williams, of Michigan, and William Mosely, of Missouri, Commissioners under the act of Congress approved April 17th, 1866, to reimburse the State of Missouri for money expended for the United States for enrolling, equipping and provisioning militia, and in suppressing the rebellion. They were directed to assemble at St. Louis on July 28th, 1866, for the purpose of taking the necessary oaths, and entering upon the performance of their duties.

TREASURY CIRCULAR.

The Secretary of the Treasury has issued a circular relative to the percentage of fines, penalties or forfeitures incurred by Internal Revenue frauds, which will hereafter be paid to persons informing the proper officials of such frauds upon the Government.

FROM CANADA.

Adjournment of Parliament—Address of the Governor General.

OTTAWA, August 15.—At 11 o'clock to-day his Excellency, the Governor General, gave the royal assent to the bills passed this session, and prorogued Parliament. The following is the important part of his speech:

Honorable Gentlemen: I rejoice that you have completed your part of the plan for the union of the colonies of British North America, and I shall not fail to transmit to the Secretary of State for the Colonies, for presentation to Her Majesty, your address on this subject. In bringing yourselves to act for the union of the two Canadas, I congratulate the Parliament which that law called into existence. The events of the quarter of a century in the Provinces you can mark during that period the firm consolidation of your institutions, both political and municipal, the extended settlement of your country, the development of your internal resources and foreign trade, the important simplification of your laws, and, above all, the education which the adoption of the system of responsible government has afforded to your statesmen in the well tried ways of the British Constitution. The same principles, the application of which has been attended with so much advantage in the smaller Union, will be the guide of your course in the larger sphere of action on which you are now about to enter, and I fervently pray that the blessings which you have hitherto enjoyed may be given in larger measure to that new nationality of which you will form part, and the admission of which entitles us to high place among the Powers of the world.

FROM BALTIMORE.

Unconditional Union State Convention.

BALTIMORE, August 15.—The Unconditional Union Convention was held here to-day. Geo. M. Sanders, of Howard county, was chosen permanent President, and made a speech indorsing the action of Congress as against the President's policy. Resolutions were adopted to appoint delegates to the Convention of Southern Loyalists, which meets in Philadelphia on the 3d of September. The Committee on Resolutions, through their chairman, C. C. Fulton, reported a series of resolutions indorsing the reconstruction measures of Congress, and the proposed amendments to the Constitution; urging the necessity of maintaining the registry law of the State, and condemning the course of Gov. Swan in relation to said law, &c. The Convention unanimously nominated Col. H. Banes, of Cumberland, formerly of the Second Brigade, for State Comptroller.

The following were appointed delegates from the State at large to the 3d of September Convention: Hon. J. A. J. Cresswell, Hon. Francis Thomas, Hon. John L. Thomas, Jr., Hon. J. Lee Chapman, Mayor of Baltimore, Gen. Denison, C. C. Fulton, Col. Samuel T. Graham, George W. Sanders, Samuel M. Evans, and W. Frederick Mace.

FROM BUFFALO.

Proceedings of the Association for the Advancement of Science.

BUFFALO, August 15.—The Association for the Advancement of Science reconvened at half-past three o'clock, when Professor Loomis, of Yale College, read a paper on the physical condition of the sun's surface and the movement of its spots. Colonel Whittlesey addressed the convention on the subject of the Glaciers of the St. Lawrence. At the conclusion of his remarks, a spirited discussion of the glacial theory arose, Professor T. S. Terry Hunt, of Montreal, opposing it, in favor of the theory of submarine glacier or iceberg action. Prof. O. N. Stoddart, of Miami University, Ohio, and Professor Newberry, of Columbia College, spoke in vindication of the glacial theory.

At six o'clock, the Association adjourned, with the understanding that the discussion should be resumed in the morning. There are already over fifty members present, which are more than were at the convention of 1860, at Newport. About three hundred persons attended the meeting this afternoon. This session promises to be very successful. It will probably continue till Tuesday next.

He stated that there were one hundred and seventy-four cases of cholera in Brooklyn last week, including eighty-two deaths. He made this statement to correct false reports in the New York press. On reference to the official report of deaths from cholera, as printed in the papers, there are two hundred and forty recorded.

The Imperial authorities were arrested and arms distributed among the people. On hearing this news, five hundred Austrian troops were sent from Jesuitlan. They were allowed to come into the city, and were afterwards surrounded and captured with all their muskets, ammunition and two pieces of artillery. Insurrections are said to be of common occurrence in Mexico since the people have heard that the French are going to leave the country.

STATE ITEMS.

Robert Paxton, a horse thief, and Forbes Cannon, charged with stealing from the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, broke out of the jail at Greensburg last Friday afternoon, but were recaptured at George's station five hours afterwards.

The Greensburg Argus says: A little son of John Walls, Jr., of Hempfield township, was bitten on one of its fingers by a copperhead, on Monday morning last, while in a log stable on his father's premises. The child was carried to the house, and in a few moments the poison had reached the elbow. Dr. Brown was sent for, who, on his arrival, found the arm swollen to the shoulders. The proper remedies were applied, with marked success, and it is hoped the little sufferer may recover. The snake was afterwards killed, and measured three feet in length.

Some weeks since a young woman named Lizzie Loy was arrested in Harrisburg, having a large sum of money in her possession, supposed to have been stolen from a gentleman named Shuler, a resident of Perry county. Miss Lizzie was tried last week in the Perry County Court, when the Commonwealth failed to find her guilty of the charge of robbery, but brought in a verdict of guilty of receiving stolen money. Her father, tried at the same time on the same charges, was pronounced innocent. For the crime of receiving the stolen money Miss Lizzie was sentenced to be imprisoned for ten days, pay a fine of six cents, and refund the $5,600 she brought to Harrisburg. Since the trial a Mr. John Hollinbaugh and wife, related to Miss Lizzie, have, upon the confession of a daughter-in-law of Mr. Shuler, been committed to prison to answer the charge upon which Miss Loy was tried.

The Presbyterian Church of Long Run, Westmoreland county, (commenced the spring of 1865,) has been completed and paid for, and was dedicated last Thursday, the 9th inst. The house was filled to overflowing, about seven hundred persons being present. The exercises were opened by the Rev. Watson Hughes. The dedication sermon preached by the Rev. Wm. D. Moore, prayer by the Rev. Miller of West Newton. Rev. Wilson of McKeesport, and Rev. Boyd of Sewickly also participated. Mr. Moore rendered an account of the expense of the building, amounting to nearly fourteen thousand dollars. The building is a substantial and beautiful house.

Sunday 26th, morning and evening, at Brady's Bend. The week intervening between the 19th and 26th will be spent in Kittanning.

The Titusville Herald, in noticing the new telegraph line between this city and the oil regions, says: "By private enterprise a new telegraph line is being constructed between Pittsburgh and Oil City, up the Allegheny Valley. The posts have been planted on the western bank of the river at Kittanning, and the work is being rapidly pushed to completion. This project has been deemed expedient by those interested in the oil business to facilitate transactions. We hear also of a project to construct a telegraph line from Titusville to Tidioute."

TOBACCO INSPECTIONS IN FRANCE.—In France tobacco is a government monopoly, no one being allowed to grow even a single plant without a permit. When the tobacco comes up every plant is counted, and the number entered in a book. Every week the inspector visits the field, counting every stem, and when the plants are approaching maturity, every leaf is counted, and an entry of the number of leaves made in his book. If a leaf is attacked by an insect, or withers, the farmer must not remove it, but on the next weekly visit of the inspector the dead leaf is taken away by him, and an entry to that effect is made in the book, and the entry for that particular plant is corrected as to the number of leaves. When the crop is fit for gathering, the inspector makes his final examination. If the quality is found to be defective, he causes the whole to be gathered and burned, the unhappy owner, in such case, not receiving a single centime, but losing the whole of his year's work.

GENERAL GRANT'S NEW INSIGNIA OF RANK.—General Grant has not yet decided upon any particular design of shoulder-strap to indicate his rank as General of the armies of the United States. A handsome design, consisting of a golden eagle grasping an olive branch and a bundle of arrows, and flanked by a gold star on either side, was yesterday submitted for his inspection. The General expressed himself pleased with the design, but has not yet decided which of those presented to adopt.

RENT DAY IN NEW YORK.—The New York correspondent of the Rochester (N. Y.) Democrat, says that under the heavy advances made in May last, enormous sums were collected in the metropolis on the 1st instant—quarter day. The amount is estimated at forty millions of dollars. And now that the day is past and the rent all collected, the landlord's misery removes itself—"three months before another dollar comes in—how long, how long?" Such are the sorrows of the New York landlords.

THE INTENDED FRAUD.

The distinction between evidences of sincere penitence and utterances coined in view of an emergency, and for a special purpose, should be steadily borne in mind,—more especially in view of the high game being played at Philadelphia. The Convention purged itself of VALLANDIGHAM and his set, solely because it would be impolitic to permit them to sit as members. This act of the Convention evinces the expertness of the managers,—but the choosing of traitors and Copperheads to go to Philadelphia was high proof of the actual state of things, and the real danger. However the Convention may strive to cover this up and suppress all appearance of it there, the danger remains and will grow, and is all the more to be dreaded for the attempt to hide it. A masked battery is more to be feared because more destructive than an open one.

In the Philadelphia Convention Louisiana has a certain number of mild-mannered gentlemen, consenting for the time to abate the habitual expression of treasonable sentiments,—whereas the true representative of Louisiana, as a reconstructed State claiming equality in the Union, is the New Orleans massacre,—the terrible fact that peaceable and orderly citizens are compelled to flee on account of their Unionism—a state of things strikingly similar to that which existed in the early days of the rebellion.

It is a stupendous fraud the Philadelphia Convention has deliberately undertaken to perpetrate. Governor ORR says the South accepts the verdict of the war, is peaceable and loyal, deserves to be treated well, and would act as she should act if permitted to re-enter, in perfect equality, the Union. How must the words, in view of the daily evidence of their falsity, blister his tongue! We refer not to isolated cases, to occasional disturbances resulting from a disordered social condition; but to the glaring fact that almost the entire military force of the country scarcely suffices to protect Union men from the growing rebellious spirit all over the South. We refer not to irresponsible or distorted statements, but to the testimony proceeding from among officers and living witnesses in the persons of fugitives fleeing for their lives, bringing with them warnings by Vigilant Committees and self-appointed "regulators," whose office it is to "clean out" Union men. Such facts as these told us what was the Southern spirit immediately preceding the rebellion—they prove what it is now; and they are no more to be disregarded or treated lightly now than were they then.

The Philadelphia Convention is a stupendous and desperate scheme to mask the deformities of the South. But it would be as reasonable to attempt to mask a volcano by throwing a blanket over its mouth, as to undertake to conceal the facts as shown in the eruptive rebelliousness prevalent and growing in nearly every Southern State, with speeches and resolutions at Philadelphia. The fugitives and expelled Union men, arriving in Washington, are the living witnesses of a damnable truth which a thousand Philadelphia Conventions, with ever so much clap-trap of South Carolina and Massachusetts arm-in-arm, cannot blot out.

"ANTECEDENTS."

The repugnance, in the South and in its circle of sympathies, to the consideration of what they tenderly call their "antecedents," is perfectly true to nature. Any one can readily account for this repugnance, and to the mind of any one will occur innumerable parallel cases, in which a consideration of "antecedents" would materially mar the prospects of present operations. The fraudulent dealer, the confidence man, the deceitful libertine, as well as traitors, are always solicitous to keep their antecedents out of view, as their hopes of success in the future rest on ignorance or oblivion of the past.

The Union people of the North have shown and are still showing a disposition so far to forget the antecedents of the South as to forgive them. Amnesty and pardon, so far as consistent with justice and safety to the country, have met with approval, and even the absurdest dispensations of pardon, in particular cases, have called forth little animadversion or remonstrance. There is a manifest leaning to the side of mercy and kindness in the public sentiment of Union sections. The vengeful feelings, the thirst for blood, the malignant passions, that are daily attributed to them by the Southern press, and that are in no less libelous language re-echoed by their Northern allies, do not exist, except in the inflamed imagination of their accusers. The history of the period since the war is a full proof of this. If they claim the execution of the assassins of Mr. LINCOLN as an exception, as we believe they do, we will not debate the point.

But we can see no reason why in political reconstruction the antecedents of political parties should be ejected from consideration. The claims of justice may be waived so far as to exempt traitors from punishment, but it is only stupidity or madness that would place them in power. The strong opiates that would induce oblivion of Mr. FLOYD's treachery and place him at the head of the War Department, or that would introduce Mr. BRECKINRIDGE into the Senate, or give Mr. DAVIS the Presidential chair, cannot be a wise or safe prescription. Yet this is essentially what is aimed at in the present political movement in behalf of the Southern States. "Antecedents," we should think, are of some consequence in estimating the wisdom and propriety of such a measure. And the Congress of the United States, so regarding the case, are entitled to the honor and gratitude of the country for shaping their action with some reference to those monitory antecedents.

But we will go further. Let all the antecedents, from Sumter to Farmville, be laid aside in a sweet oblivion, let the war, the slaughter, the treacherous Secretaries and Senators, the usurpations of the Confederacy, the Alabamas, the MASONS, the DAVISES, the Andersonvilles, the BOOTHS be all ignored under this extraordinary statute of political limitations. Open new books. Begin the accounts afresh. Let the first entry bear date April 9th, 1865, when LEE surrendered, or April 15th, when ANDREW JOHNSON became occupant of the Presidential chair, vacated by the lamented death of ABRAHAM LINCOLN. The entire account will show, both in its items and its footings, that the Congress of the United States have not been too cautious in the conduct of the affairs entrusted to them, that they have not arbitrarily and without good and sufficient reasons, exercised their prerogative of judging of the qualifications of persons claiming seats as legislators. And the fair history of the politics of the country, for the past sixteen months, will further show that the Union party has the strongest reason for keeping a most vigilant outlook for the safety of the country, in view of the growing disloyalty that has been developed in the South during these months.

Had there been a steady, judicious and strong hand on the helm of State, since April, 1865, the country would have made a more rapid, and less stormy, progress toward pacification and prosperity than it has. It is notorious that the facilities which then existed in the temper of the subdued insurgents, as well as in their loyal and friendly fellow citizens, were every way favorable to a speedy and safe adjustment of political difficulties. But an unhappy manifestation of clemency—unhappy in its manner, rather than its extent—revived morbid hopes in the South and in the North, and as that clemency gradually but speedily led to the assumption of a sort of championship on the President's part, the passions and the plans of the South and their sympathizers kept pace with it, and are, at this time, without reference to "antecedents," indicating purposes altogether hostile to the liberty and best interests of the country. Under the specious pretext of harmony—the Chicago tune on a different instrument—the coalition forming now is calculated if not to subvert the Government by ignoring Congress, certainly to discredit the popular and representative branch of it, and to concentrate power in the hands of the branch that is personal, and executive—exalting power and depressing law.

NAPOLEON SNUBBED.

The answer by Prussia to the French Emperor, that his demands touching the Rhine boundary will not be allowed, is as distinct and emphatic as it well could be. The question—what next? occurs to every mind. We see it asserted, on what is assumed to be good authority, that an understanding exists between NAPOLEON and BISMARK, and that this has been the fact from the first. This can scarcely be, for, if the cable does not misrepresent, the two, if not at sword's point, are certainly in attitudes that admit of no such construction. Conceding the correctness of the report as to demand and refusal, NAPOLEON for once has been squarely snubbed—the sort of thing for which BISMARK appears to have a natural relish. The thing is so well done, and so unexpectedly, that it almost justifies the suggestion that the proceeding is in pursuance of an understanding to be fully developed as it may suit the most unscrupulous man in all Europe. This, however, is hardly to be believed, and the whole world is relishing hugely the rebuff NAPOLEON has received at the hands of this new comer and rival, if not superior—BISMARK.

THE DRAMA.

GEORGE FRANCIS TRAIN has announced to Mr. JOHNSON that "his (the President's) Convention is already a gigantic success." This was before the play began. And we have no doubt that the Quaker City never before embraced so large a corps of performers, or had presented to it a programme so extraordinary. The play offered in the bill is an original political production. After some changing of the cast, the first scene was acted on Tuesday. Mr. TRAIN "and two or three others" withdrew without serious embarrassment to the performance. Mr. F. WOOD declined to act. Mr. VALLANDIGHAM was struck from the bill, and his part, reluctantly surrendered, was taken by other actors, equally of the star class.

If we were at all inclined to be critical, we should say that too much of the arrangements properly belonging to the green-room was introduced on the stage. The grand entree of the South Carolina performers, leading in those of Massachusetts, was very effective and affecting, though slightly impaired by the announcement of it beforehand, through the blunder of a stage manager. S. C. and Mass., pinned on the respective coat-breasts of the delegates, after the manner of the young ladies in Mr. DAVIS's pantomime of the rebellion, would have been a happier expedient.

The orchestra performed wonders, playing Yankee Doodle, Dixie, and the Star Spangled Banner, by turns, and commingled like Master BURKE's medley of Irish, English and Scotch songs.

But on the whole, the grand feature of the first day's performance was the symbolization of loving union between the radicals of South Carolina and those of Massachusetts, leaning on one another's bosoms and walking shoulder to shoulder personally, as they did sympathetically during the war. The show would have been completed, if we may be allowed a suggestion, by the introduction of Mr. DAVIS weeping over the coffin of ABRAHAM LINCOLN, draped with the two flags. If there was any room for soldier apparitions on the stage, thirteen thousand ghosts from Andersonville might supply the machinery of the play, and Fort Pillow and Ball's Bluff might furnish decorations of the scenery.

We are sorry to announce, in connection with all the harmony, a probable conflict of authorities, on the whisky question, between the Prosecuting Attorney of Philadelphia and the New York World, the latter having recommended liberal potations as a reconstruction measure, and the former enforcing the laws against illicit liquor selling. But, although whisky was abundant, a seasonable shower, from which the unfinished roof afforded no adequate protection to the Convention, took sides against the World and threw the predominance in favor, temporarily, of cold water.

LESSONS IN HISTORY.

The Hon. ROBERT C. WINTHROP, of old Whig fame, has written a letter in support of the Philadelphia Convention and the Constitution. The latter he thinks is to be saved, if saved at all, by the former. It is curious to perceive, which Mr. WINTHROP, however, does not, who are the men that are to do this. If Mr. WINTHROP will only look for a single moment he will see they are those and the sympathizers of those who for four years were in deadly strife, not for the overthrow of the Constitution only, but for the destruction of the Republic. This is the precise fact, and we would like to have Mr. WINTHROP explain on what ground he places his great expectations concerning a convention of such men. He is a student of history, and we ask him to tell the country at what stage of the world's history did it ever happen that rebels against a Government, on failing to destroy it, were, with the consent of those who had saved it, charged with the management of public affairs? It is probable that he might find instances where rebels, failing in the first attempt, made a second, and in a manner bearing a striking resemblance to the plan whereof the Philadelphia Convention is a single step. Let Mr. WINTHROP and all men study well the lessons of history.

A PANIC.

The Philadelphia Conventionists seem to have found out that their prospect is now more absolutely hopeless than they supposed it was. The managers, like the officers of a leaky and sinking ship at sea, have commenced throwing things overboard—the last thing done, and generally when hope has already sped. The heaviest and most useless articles go first. On this principle the throwing overboard of Mr. HEISTER CLYMER is said to be under earnest advisement, notwithstanding that gentleman persists in protesting against being made a Jonah.

It's clear the alarm on board the Democratic Fusion ship is immense. Everybody appears to realize that something must be done, and that, too, right off. But a thousand Jonahs won't save that ship.

THE Philadelphia Convention, by inducing VALLANDIGHAM & Co. to retire, practically acknowledged the force of popular sentiment. If the acknowledgment were genuine—if the proceedings were the result of a real desire to do right, we might regard it hopefully. VALLANDIGHAM, it is said, will be compensated for the sacrifice,—there is no intention of cutting him off, only to make him useful in some other way. If this were not so, they would turn him out and boldly denounce him. When the Convention do that, people may begin to think they are not playing a deep game of deception.

A DISEASED, disordered system, especially in the region of the stomach, is generally inclined to "throw up." It was so with the Philadelphia Convention. The first thing it did was to get rid of VALLANDIGHAM, TRAIN & Co. Old topers have a way, when they want to play a deceiving game, of getting rid of what they imbibe, whereby they appear to be doing what they are not. The Convention appears to have got rid of the obnoxious characters in this way, and for similar reasons—a game of deception being at the bottom of the proceedings. But who will be deceived?

A TUB TO THE WHALE.—New Bedford whalers are sometimes pursued by the "big fish" after they have harpooned him, and thrown out a tub for him to worry himself with. The political boat's crew, at Philadelphia, have thrown out poor VALLANDIGHAM, instead of a tub, but the expedient will not save them. The big fish that is after them knows his game better.

"RATHER RUDELY INTERRUPTED."

This is the gentle phrase of the Richmond Times, to indicate the breaking up of the Convention in New Orleans by a murderous band of reconstructed rebels. The Convention met on a legal call of the proper authorities, and whatever may have been its purpose or design, it had done nothing, it had neither made nor threatened any disturbance or breach of the public peace. It had hardly organized, we believe, when it was assailed by a mob, made up of rowdies and police, the members and attendants beaten, stabbed and shot down in the house and in the streets when flying from the assailants, and forty persons, according to the lowest report, killed, and four times that number wounded.

This is what the Times calls "rather rudely" interrupting a quiet, peaceable and authorized meeting of Union men in Louisiana. Just so the peace of the country and the quiet retirement of Major ANDERSON was "rather rudely" interrupted by the cannonade of Sumter in 1861, and the rather unmannerly interruption was continued for four years at the expense of half a million of lives.

The apology for the murders is evidence, at once, that the atrocious massacre was begun by the rebel gang, and that reconstructed rebel sympathies accord with the deed.

CAUTION TO WHALES.—Jonah has been thrown overboard by the Philadelphia Convention.

PERSONAL.

—The prorogation speech of Queen Victoria gives thanks to the United States Government for having saved the Canadians from the onslaught of the Fenians. The Queen has abundant cause to be thankful, but Americans would prefer to see her keep her thanks and pay her debts.

—A certain newly elected Irish mayor, speaking of certain articles in a vivacious newspaper, observed—"I despise those under-hand attacks. When I write an anonymous letter I always sign my name to it."

—The London Star says the fate of Poe and others distinguished in the arena of literature is repeated in the experience of the French poet Baudelaire. He is alive and in Paris, but his mind is gone. The terrific coloring of most of Baudelaire's works is due to the effects of opium; he used to swallow sufficient laudanum to poison five persons; one hundred and twenty drops, however, of that narcotic sufficed to make him talkative and gay, and to inspire him with the power of writing. The result, however, is that he is now a raving lunatic.

The wind shrieks dismally, or sighs with a mournful cadence through the vast halls of the Mountain House, and among the slim branches of the trees; the light plays in a weird fashion upon the rocks above and the valleys below; the ghost of Rip Van Winkle stalks about the place, and Leatner Stocking is certainly here in one of his old fits of musing.

—Col. John R. Johnson, the Baltimore artist, has received several commissions from Mr. August Belmont, of New York, to paint battle scenes in Virginia, as also one for W. —General Robert E. Lee will publish, in November, a new edition of "Memoirs of the War in the Southern Department of the United States, by Colonel Henry Lee." It was originally published in 1809, and again in 1828, but copies are very rare. General Lee will add a biography of his father, Colonel Lee, and much new and important matter.

—In a recent letter Senator Fessenden says: "Debilitated by a long and arduous session of Congress, and by repeated attacks of illness, I find myself under the necessity of suspending, as far as possible, all mental effort and avoiding excitement of any kind. The Ohio Cornfield.

The Cincinnati Gazette has an interesting article, showing the annual and average production of corn in the State of Ohio for a number of years. The crop increased from 1840 to 1850, 25,416,551 bushels, or 76 per cent.; from 1850 to 1860, 9,652,151 bushels, or 16½ per cent.; from 1840 to 1860, 35,062,702 bushels, or 107 per cent. The average of the crops of 1851, 1852 and 1853, was 64,257,629 bushels. Average of the crop of 1854-5 and 6, 65,852,069 bushels. Average of crop of 1857-8 and 9, 67,169,872 bushels.

The number of acres planted in 1860 was 2,387,63, yielding 91,588,701 bushels. The average yield of the five years, commencing with the year 1860, was 67,500,000. The production of 1865 was greater, and the production of this year will be still much greater. The number of acres planted is supposed to be over 2,400,000, and taking the average production of 1860, which was 38 bushels per acre, we shall have 92,000,000 of bushels.

The people of Ohio raise an average of thirty bushels of corn to each living person, small and great, annually.

The statistics of the production of corn in the United States, for the last twenty-five years, was as follows: in 1840, 377,531,875 bushels; in 1850, 592,071,104 bushels; and in 1860, 830,451,707 bushels. The increase is at the rate of 4 per cent. per annum, and at that percentage of increase, the aggregate crops of 1866 will be over one thousand millions of bushels. Estimate this at 60 cents per bushel, and you will have an idea of its value.

STRANGE IF TRUE.—The Detroit Tribune records the following singular circumstances, and vouches for their truth: "Some months since a citizen of Branch county, Michigan, employed two men to remove his deceased wife's remains, which they pretended to do, and claimed as a recompense, one three dollars and a half, and the other one dollar and a half. The gentleman being well pleased with their execution of the work, gave the latter two dollars, which he refused, returning fifty cents. The following night the gentleman dreamed that one of the men visited his room naked, his body covered with black spots, and on being asked what ailed him, he replied that the spots indicated the lies he had told, and the large one on his side the lie he had told him in regard to disinterring his wife's remains, which they had not done. On awaking, his dream so impressed him that he was led to ascertain whether the men had actually done what he had paid them for doing, and found that they had not. On his complaint they were arrested and sent to the State prison for one year for obtaining money under false pretenses, and are now serving out their time at Jackson."

PRUSSIA.—The Boston Post concludes an article on Prussia and her victories, as follows: Prussia thus comes out of the war a power nearly the equal of France, wholly Protestant, allied intimately with England by marriage, with a homogeneous population, worthy of its proud inheritance of military renown, and every way capable of sitting at the council board of the European nations as a power of the first class. Her civilization, military prowess, ingenuity, skill, and growing commercial importance will make good her claim. The Great Frederick planted this national desire in the popular heart, and to-day it celebrates its fruition by a series of brilliant military triumphs any one of which he would have gladly called his own. As for Austria and Italy, their cases lie without the pale of her plan; their future is with themselves. But Prussia has put a new and greener crown upon the head of her King, by a hand that skilfully hides the iron under the laurel he twines around it.

THE NEW YORK CENTRAL PARK.—The Commissioners of the Central Park, in New York, have recently rendered their annual statement of the expenses, &c., incurred in the improvement of the great breathing garden of the metropolis. For seats, awnings, hedges, and various other "indispensables," the sum of $366,958 38 was expended; eight thousand eight hundred and eleven trees were planted; twenty-five new drives were opened, making the whole riding space of the Park at present about twenty-five miles in extent. During the past year there were seven million five hundred and ninety-three thousand one hundred and thirty-nine visitors. Eighty thousand persons patronized the boats on the lakes. The music on Saturdays during the past year has cost $3,505. The Park has cost thus far $9,761,895 98.

IN the Church of the Jesuits at Vienna, Father Kinklowstroem declared in the pulpit that if the Austrian army had been beaten those reverses were not to be attributed to the defective combinations of its chiefs, the needle gun, or the skill of the Prussian Generals, but solely to the will of Providence, who had thus punished Austria for having confided the chief command to Benedek, a Protestant, and an enemy of the true religion. "The reverend gentleman," observes the Independance, "appears to have forgotten to explain how and why Providence, having permitted a Protestant to be defeated, had at the same time allowed two Princes of the same religion to be rewarded by victory."

SMOKE.

The Economical Combustion of Bituminous Coal.

NO. IV.—GAS AS A FUEL.

In our last we stated that coal cannot be burned, (we use the common term to express combustion,) until it is reduced to a state of gas, and that such is the process, whatever way we take to burn it. If we take a piece of rich cannel coal and ignite it, or "set fire" to a pine knot, the process is the same—the gas produced only burns. But in such cases the hydrogen is disengaged by the first application of the match, or the igniting flame, and the heat of the flame still continues to disengage the gas, which, burning in the open air, absorbs the proper equivalent of oxygen to support combustion. The same thing takes place in the grate, or in the furnace, and we must make gas, before we can make heat or start a fire.

If we built our furnaces, stoves, etc., with this fact in view, how very different would be the mode of proceeding. We know that our present mode of "firing" must be a very wasteful mode of producing gas, and our preliminary remarks point out why and how. We get little, if any, more than one-fourth of the caloric or latent heat of coal for useful purposes. Yet we dig, and shovel, and sweat, without producing a fourth of the effect desired and which we may obtain with one-half the labor and cost by a more intelligent application of the little knowledge we possess. By reducing the coal to gas in a controllable manner, so that we can add the requisite amount of air to produce complete combustion and to economize the heat produced by preventing, first, the gas and then the heat from escaping without imparting its caloric to the desired purposes.

In the production of steam, or rarification of water, a certain amount of heat is required. We find, by chemical tests and experiments that if all the latent heat or caloric of coal is utilized, one-tenth of a pound of coal will give one horse power, or one pound of coal properly consumed, and all its heat imparted to the water, will produce ten horse power per hour. But our very best steam boilers do not give out more than one horse power for two pounds of coal per hour, or only one-twentieth of the caloric which may may be obtained. The common engines such as are used in Pittsburgh and other places where coal is plentiful and cheap, use from five to ten pounds of coal per horse power per hour, or over one hundred times the quantity of coal that science teaches us might be made use of to produce the same results. But allowing for radiation and such loss as cannot be avoided in practical operations, we may state without exaggeration that we use ten times the quantity of coal actually required to produce a given effect.

We are, therefore, within bounds when we say that from one-half to three-fourths more effect may be obtained by first reducing the coal to gas in an intelligent manner. But we may go further, and state that a still greater effect may be produced by using the heat likewise intelligently after its production—that is, by retaining it where required, instead of letting it rush up the chimney.

Gas is produced in various ways. That used for gaslight is obtained by placing rich bituminous coal in a close retort or vessel, and enclosing it in a furnace where a high temperature is maintained. The coal in this retort simply gives off its bitumen or free gases, in the shape of carburetted hydrogen, which is allowed to escape into receivers, and from thence, after purification and cooling, is conveyed to the gasometers for use. Oxygen, or air, does not come in contact with the coal, yet the temperature to which it is subjected rarifies the volatile hydrogen, until all, or most of the bitumen is driven off, and only the carbon and earthy matter left as coke. The carbon requires a much greater heat and a combination with oxygen in order to become volatile or reduced to gas. If a small amount only of air is added in this condition, the gas produced is carbonic oxyde, or one equivalent of carbon and one of oxygen. But if a large amount of air is added the carbon is burnt to complete combustion, or one equivalent of carbon and two of oxygen, as carbonic acid. Carbonic oxide is a combustible gas, and produces a strong heat, but carbonic acid will not burn; on the contrary, extinguishes combustion.

It is thus demonstrated that all the coal except its earthy part, may be reduced to a combustible gas, and when the hydrogen is retained and mixed with the carbonic acid, a very strong and fiery gas is evolved. But as this light gas is the first to be produced in all cases, it is not possible, except where large reservoirs are used and a high heat is maintained, to combine it effectually. The carbonic oxide is the last and most slowly produced. Yet there is a very simple way of producing dydro-carbons even from the coke, as we propose to show in our next paper.

A favorite mode of giving advice is to advise something practically impossible. The Pall Mall Gazette says a clergyman recently said that a glass of sherry, with a biscuit, at 11 A. On one side will be a medallion of Mr. Douglas, surrounded on the rim with the words, "Born April 23, 1813. Died June 3, 1861." On the reverse, the words "Douglas Monument Association" on the rim, and in the center, "Corner stone laid, Sept. 16, 1866." They will be made of white metal, 1½ inches in diameter.

Some of the fractional currency now ready to be issued by the Treasury Department, is printed, it is said, on Confederate bank note paper, bearing the letters C. S. A., in water mark, which was manufactured in London for the rebel treasury, and captured on board of a blockade runner.

Thomas Hooks, formerly of the Confederate army, who was suspected of being a guerilla, tried and sentenced to be hung, had his sentence commuted to imprisonment for life. A few days ago he was pardoned by the President. When his name was called in the yard of the Tennessee State Prison, he stood speechless—like a marble statue. He had no knowledge that the slightest effort had been made in his behalf by his wife and aged mother. He passed out of the prison avowing his penitence and pledging himself to live an honorable life in the future.

Fire Marshal Baker, of New York, reports the number of fires for the last six months at two hundred and twenty-eight, or fifty-two in excess of the number during the same period last year. Alleged losses, $3,936,407; insurance, $7,302,320; amount paid by the underwriters, $3,031,270. The proportion of loss on the amount insured was about twelve per cent. less than during the previous half year.

The late law of Congress providing for the safety of the lives of passengers on board of vessels propelled in whole or in part by steam, has been printed and is being circulated by the Revenue Department. Barges carrying passengers, towed by a steamer, are to carry fire-buckets, life-preservers, axes, etc., for the preservation of the lives of the passengers.

A letter in the Episcopal Methodist, from New York, says that recently a Southern lady attended a fashionable church, up town, in that city, and was surprised to see her shawl, ring and bracelet, lost during the war, in the possession of another lady who occupied a pew in front of her. The articles were claimed and promptly returned. The story is very doubtful.

At Balcany Bay, Ireland, the people have every facility for making cheap iron. It is said that the ores can be got out and delivered at the furnace for twenty-five cents per ton, and will yield seventy per cent. of pure iron. Peat, found in great abundance, can be used for fuel.

How Dr. Dostie Was Killed—Statement of a Rebel Officer.

The subjoined extract, from a private letter from New Orleans, explains most conclusively the diabolical cruelty of the rioters in that city:

"The facts I now relate were given by a gentleman formerly in the Confederate army, but who accepts the present situation, and is thoroughly loyal. His reputation as a man of honor is spotless. He attended the meeting from mere curiosity, and was in the room where the meeting was held.

"The papers here declare that the police were fired upon by citizens, but Mr. —— says that when the policemen appeared at the door the crowd inside waved handkerchiefs as a sign of their surrender, and that many of the members called out for protection—declaring themselves willing to surrender. The police paid no attention, but discharged their pistols into the hall, and it was not until nearly sixty shots had been fired that any resistance was made by any of the audience.

"The Rev. Mr. Horton, a man universally beloved, was among those present. He went toward the door with his hands raised and saying 'I beseech you not to fire for these men are innocent.' When he fell, shot in the side, not content with this the police beat him with their clubs until he was supposed to be dead. A late surgeon of the United States Volunteers saw him this morning. He says the pistol wound would not have proved fatal, but the wound on the head from a club that is dangerous. Two of his fingers were broken, and he is very much bruised. The only answer made to many a negro upon his begging for mercy or claiming protection from the police was a blow from a club on one side and a pistol shot on the other. Dr. Dostie was shot while attempting to persuade the colored men to disperse. After he fell he was beaten, stamped upon, taken by his hair and feet and pitched into an offal cart.

"M—— also tells me of one old, white haired colored man who was shot in at least a dozen places without being killed, when two policemen stepped up to him; one hit him with a club, the other put his pistol to his temple and blew his brains out. They clubbed the poor creature until he was one mass of bruises. Judge Howell was in the Governor's room when the trouble commenced. Two United States officers entering the room, he surrendered to them. Upon learning who he was they refused to have anything to do with him. Two policemen soon entered and arrested him. After they had gone several blocks some one spoke to the Judge, calling him by name. The policemen remarked 'that if they had known who their prisoner was he should never have left the Institute alive.' The rebels are very exultant over the massacre, one man boasting that he had 'fired twelve times, and hoped to have an opportunity to empty his six shooter again before night.'"

Arrest of Two Boys for Absconding with $2,500 in Gold.

It will be remembered that about the first of August the fact was extensively published that a young man named George McKellop, employed by Messrs. Van Wort & McCoy, a Beekman street firm in New York, had absconded with $2,500 in gold and gold certificates belonging to his employers, which they entrusted with him to pay certain Custom House duties. No clue to his whereabouts could be obtained, until the firm bethought themselves of a letter left for McKellop on the day he disappeared. This missive proved to be from a newsboy named Aaron Van Pelt, appointing a meeting for himself and McKellop at a place in Williamsburgh, opposite New York. One of the firm went to the spot and succeeded in getting hold of information which satisfied him that McKellop and Van Pelt were in collusion with each other. They were tracked to Philadelphia, and thence to Pittsburgh, but hearing that the young rogues had gone to Washington, the detectives were about going thither when they learned that the two boys had been arrested at Alexandria, Va., on suspicion of being horse thieves, and had confessed to the robbery from Van Wort & McCoy. An effort was made by the officer who arrested them to obtain five hundred dollars for it, but the young rascals were brought up for examination. At this time McKellop secreted a $1,000 bond under a window sill, which a Capt. Pettis, with whom McKellop had been boarding during his stay in Alexandria, secured, and refused to deliver up for less than half its value. He was, therefore placed in arrest, and all three have been taken to New York, and held to answer by Justice Dowling, of that city. About one-half of the money originally carried off has been recovered.

The Late Rains and the Crops.

The late rains have caused great excitement in the Chicago market, which has advanced. The Tribune of that city says: The heavy rains during the past few days seem to have been general all over the West, from the latitude of Cairo to that of St. Cloud, and in many places a great deal of damage has been inflicted on the grain, though from all we can learn, the severity of the storm was more intense, and more injury was sustained in the north than in the southern parts of the Northwestern States. South of the Dixon Air Line Railroad, and its extension through Iowa, the damage is light, as most of the grain had been cut and stacked, previous to the storm. But north of this road—through Northern Illinois, Wisconsin, Northern Iowa and Southern Minnesota, the crops have sustained a serious injury. The rains have been incessant; the streams are swollen to mountain torrents, and several lives have been lost. However, as it is well known that occurrences of this kind are nearly always more or less exaggerated, there is some hope that things will not turn out as badly as represented. A week of dry, cool weather will do much to mitigate the effects of the recent storms, and although the crops will assuredly not turn out as well as was expected, there will be an ample sufficiency for home consumption, if not a small surplus for export.

Commercial Uses of the Cable.

The New York Commercial Advertiser says it is high time that the New York merchants and bankers fixed upon some course with respect to the receipt of intelligence by the Atlantic Cable, as it is very clear that the advantage of exclusive news is sufficiently tempting to induce individual firms to plan for the sole use of dispatches bearing upon commercial affairs. The editor says:

"It is obviously to the interest of all connected with the European trade to combine for the prevention of such a monopoly. At a very moderate expense to each firm, all intelligence of importance to the markets could be made common. Each branch of business has its exchange, or other place of daily meeting; and by a combination of the several organizations—say the Stock Exchange, Open Board of Brokers, Gold Room, Produce Exchange, Petroleum Exchange, and Shipowners' Association—the same dispatch might be made to reach all directly interested, at a merely nominal cost to individual firms. Such a powerful combination should be able to defeat every attempt at private monopoly, and doubtless would. It could, moreover, afford to procure very ample daily reports of the foreign markets, and of all political news bearing upon commercial or financial interests. Arrangements could probably be made by such an organization for the regular use of the cable at a certain hour of the day, so as to insure the daily report at a stated period suited to the convenience of the several exchanges."

The Harvard College Catalogues.

The history of the Harvard College catalogues is not without interest. It has not been ascertained when the first one was printed. The earliest yet found is dated 1674. The first class that graduated was that of 1642. The next catalogue bears date 1682, and is the oldest one found in this country, that of 1674 having been obtained in England.

In all the catalogues before 1773 the graduates of each class were arranged according to family rank. In 1769 a complaint was made by a gentleman that his son was placed below another, whose father had not held the commission of Justice of Peace so long as he had; this was the occasion of much trouble, and the error was rectified by the student being placed in his proper place and rank. In 1830 great changes were made in the catalogues. The names of those who were not alumni of Harvard, but who had received medical, law or honorary degrees, were added, and also a still greater improvement, an index; and in the volume of this year (1866) is another addition, comprising forty-eight pages—the roll of the students of Harvard University who served in the army and navy of the United States during the war of the rebellion. The obituary dates were first introduced in 1845.

THE SABBATH IN CALIFORNIA.—A California correspondent of the Boston Advertiser writes as follows: Another thing which strikes the lately arrived emigrant from New England as entirely unlike home habits, is the almost entire disregard of the Sabbath. Stores are open, mills and mines in full operation, and, except that it is more of a holiday, there is little to distinguish it from any other day of the week. In San Francisco, it is true, there are many churches supported by wealthy and numerous congregations; but it is nevertheless the fact that in the mines, almost without exception, work is pursued the same as on any other day, and workmen have told me they have not had a "Sunday off" for six or seven years in some cases. Some of the new companies about commencing operations in Nevada, and whose stockholders for the most part are Eastern men, propose to run their mills and work their mines but six days in the week, believing that they shall lose nothing in the end by allowing the workmen a day's rest; but it is asserted by the managers and superintendents of those which have been longest in operation that the cost of stopping the work is too great; and they predict with great unanimity that "the new idea will not last and they will have to come down to working Sundays."

A PYRAMID IN THE WEST.—A party of five young men, while on an exploring expedition recently along the Colorado river, discovered an immense pyramid on a barren plain. It was composed of layers of stone from eighteen inches to nearly three feet in thickness, and from five to eight in length. It had a level top of more than fifty feet square, though it was evident that it had been completed, and that some great convulsion of nature had displaced its entire top, as it was evidently lying on one of its sides, a huge and broken mass nearly covered by the sand. Its present length is one hundred and four feet, and it must have been formerly full twenty feet higher. This pyramid differs in some respects from the Egyptian pyramids. It is, or was, more slender or pointed; and while those of Egypt are composed of steps or layers, receding as they rise, this American pyramid was, undoubtedly, a more finished structure. The outer surface of the blocks was evidently cut to an angle that gave the structure, when new and complete, a smooth or regular surfaee from to bottom.

A COLORED MEN'S BANK.—In New York City a new, capacious and elegant banking house for the sole accommodation of colored people, has been opened. All the officers of the concern, from the President down, are colored men, several of whom are very wealthy for men of their class. The offices devoted to the business of the bank compare favorably with the finest financial houses on Wall street and Broadway, in that city. Colored people are unfortunately given to lottery investments, but a dollar placed in this institution will be found to realize more than the same amount invested in one of those tickets whereon is printed something like—"4, 11, 44."

MILITARY REDRESS.—Grant's order was enforced in Memphis on the 13th, on the complaint of a negro who had been tortured by having his back lashed raw, and then having salt sprinkled in the wounds. The negro first complained to the civil authorities, and they taking no notice of the barbarity, he went to the military, who promptly arrested his master, bail being refused of course. The citizens are highly indignant, and the inhuman monster will probably be martyrized according to Southern custom.

EXTRAORDINARY.—The Portland Press tells the following rather extravagant story to illustrate the wholesale thieving practiced there on the night of the great fire: "One who had been slumbering peacefully in his grave in the Eastern Cemetery, awoke, and walking forth inquired if 'the day of judgment had come?' On being told that it was only Portland burning, he remarked that he would go back to his repose. On reaching his grave he found that in his absence somebody had stolen his coffin!"

DISASTROUS THUNDER STORM AT WHEELING.

Two Persons Killed by Lightning—Family of Seven Persons Drowned and their Bodies Swept Away—Great Damage to Property.

In Tuesday's COMMERCIAL we published a dispatch from St. Clairsville, Ohio, announcing a terrible thunder storm in that vicinity Monday. The Wheeling Intelligencer gives the following details of the storm, which was very destructive of both life and property. About —o'clock Sunday night a rain commenced falling, gently at first, but it soon grew heavy; and from eleven on towards morning a storm raged over the city and vicinity, unprecendented in severity. There was but little wind, but how the lightning did flash, the thunder crack and roll, and the rain come down!

The damage done to property was very great, but that was nothing compared to the loss of human life that took place.

One woman, a widow with six children, was killed instantly by lightning. She resided in the vicinity of the North Street M. E. Church, and was in bed when she was struck. The electric current tore out the front of the house and part of the side, scattered into a thousand pieces a clock standing in the room in which the woman lay, injured a large looking glass and bureau on which it stood, and set fire to a bonnet inside the bureau.

Two persons were sleeping in the room next that of the woman, but were uninjured. Awakened by the report they sprang out of bed and hastened into the next room to find the woman, Mrs. Seidler, dead upon the floor, having been thrown out of her bed.

On the Island, a man named H. H. Laup, living in a one story frame house, on the grounds of Henry Moore, Esq., was instantly killed. His head and breast were covered with soot, and there was a cut in his head, and bruises on other parts of his body. There were no marks about the house, except in the ceiling of the room, and on the side of the chimney, near which he was when struck; on the ceiling a small strip of plastering, about the width of one's finger, had been torn off.

An entire family, named Robinson, living on a branch of Wheeling creek, on the Ohio side about two and a half miles above its mouth, were drowned, and the bodies swept away by the current. The family consisted of seven persons, the man and his wife, and five children. The body of one of the children was caught by a Mr. Hyle, living back of Bridgeport, who, at the same time saw the body of the mother swept past him in the current, but too far out to be secured. The bodies of the father and three of the children were also caught, in the driftwood at the mouth of the creek, near Bridgeport. The bodies of the other members of the family have not yet been recovered.

The damage done to the crops and stock along Indian Wheeling Creek is estimated at not less than $20,000. Scarcely a fence is left along the margin of the creek. At the mouth of every run large piles of drift wood are to be seen. Large logs have been swept across the pike, obstructing travel.

The wife of Wm. Orr, Esq., who lives in Zanes's old house on the Island, was awakened by the storm, and got up to see what time it was. She had hardly got out bed, however, before she fell insensible. A startling crash at the same time, as though the skies were rending, revealed to her husband the cause of her fall.

The house of Mrs. Lewis, corner of German and Third streets, was struck. The lightning passed down the chimney, knocking out the arch of one of the fire places, thence passed to the basement, forcing out a brick wall, and then entered the ground. No persons injured.

Great damage was done to the C. & P. R. R. by the storm. The bridges at Bridgeport, Burlington and Patton's, opposite the "Sisters," have all been injured, more or less. At different places along the route great quantities of earth and gravel have been washed over the track. Trains from above came as far down as Portland yesterday.

Prostitution in New York City.

The daily report of the "New York House of the Fallen," says, there are about four thousand of the professional demi-monde in that city, who have no other means of support. The number of girls who work in the daytime and walk the pave at night will fully equal this number. There are at least as many more "mistresses,"—in all about twelve thousand women and girls belonging to this wretched class. The institution for the fallen has reclaimed seventy-five during the past seven months. The loss of their own self-respect induces these females to believe that they never can gain the respect of others. But lift them from this slough of self-degradation—show them that an upright life will bring its proper reward, and they are easily restored to paths of virtue. A glance at the cause of the great social evil appears to be, in a very great degree, want of employment by these women. The report says: More than one-half of the demi-monde are driven to adopt the life by their Christian parents—that is to say, the iron hand of home rule, the wrong teachings, the misconception by parents of the character of their children, the deprivation of reasonable enjoyment and amusement, drives young girls to seek a life of greater freedom. One-quarter more are the victims of men who delight in the ruin of all that is good. The remainder is composed of those girls who are compelled to work in shops and factories for their living. This latter class is the most difficult to reclaim. From their lowly life of toil, where they were compelled to live in a tenement house, or a hovel with four or five persons crowded into a small room, poorly clad, poorly fed, working from ten to twelve hours a day, for a few shillings, surrounded by drunken and degraded associates, they step to the elegant mansion of sin, where they are clad in rich stuffs, fed upon all the dainties of the season, and have no work to do, their associates comprising the fashionable men of the city, who would not have spoken to the working girl.

Institutions for reclaiming these unfortunate creatures are springing up all over the country, doing good in every community where they exist, and are fit concerns for the attention of the philanthropist and all benevolent and Christian people.

The French Market in New Orleans.

One of the most animated scenes in New Orleans is its French Market. Those who have ever been so fortunate or unfortunate as to witness the commotion of Washington Market in New York city, on a Saturday morning, will be able to form a fair idea of the excitements of French Market in the Crescent city. There all the negroes speak French, and many of them wear sabots, those clumsy feet-coverings always seen in the market places of France. Neither fish, meat, vegetables, or fruit are so fine in any other locality of the city as are found in this market. Just in the hottest spot of the whole market, the most picturesque subject is found, namely, the Indian dealers in roots and baskets. Grouped around in stolid indifference to the heat, with heavy folded wraps resting on their heads for protection against the sun, they patiently await customers for their okra and other herbs and roots. Years ago a large number of Aborigines ornamented the city, but of late, especially since the war, they have disappeared in large numbers.

THE LOYAL SOUTHERN CONVENTION.—The convention of Southern loyalists, to be held in Philadelphia in September, promises to be a grand success. The call has already received the signatures of one hundred and forty prominent Union men in the South, and enough is now known to warrant the statement that there will be not less than from four to five hundred delegates in attendance from the States lately in rebellion.

SEWING MACHINES.

METHODIST BOOK CONCERN,
200 MULBERRY STREET, N. Y.

Being in constant receipt of inquiries from our brethren respecting Sewing Machines, with requests to recommend and purchase, we have in conjunction with some lady friends, carefully and thoroughly examined the various machines of practical value for family sewing, and find those made by the Wheeler & Wilson Manufacturing Company, to fully combine the essentials of a good instrument, and such as we can confidently recommend. Having seen so favorably results from their use, in our own and the households of our friends, we are desirous that that their benefits should be shared by all our brethren, and hence have interested ourselves in their behalf.

ABEL STEVENS, JAMES FLOY,
DANIEL WISE, DAVID TERRY,
THOS. CARLTON, J. PORTER,
J. BENJ. EDWARDS, WM. A. COX.

The following Pittsburgh gentlemen, well known as practical machinists, and dealers in machinery at the late Allegheny County Fair, reported that the Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine is the most simple and thorough in construction, and on account of its improvements and simplicity, we consider it the BEST MACHINE for family and general purposes, and therefore award it the first premium.

YOU SHOULD E'ER GET MARRIED.

If you should e'er get married, John,
I'll tell you what to do—
Go get a little tenement,
Just big enough for two!
And one spare room for company,
And one spare ced within it—
If you'd begin love's life aright,
You'd better thus begin it.

In furniture be moderate, John,
And let the stuffed chairs wait;
One looking glass will do for both,
Yourself and loving mate!
And Brussels, too, and other things,
Which make a fine appearance,
You can better afford it, key
Will better look a year hence.

Some think they must have pictures, John,
Superb and costly, too;
Your wife will be a picture, John,
Let that suffice for you.
Remember how the wise man said,
A tent and love within it,
Is better than a splendid house,
With bickerings ev'ry minute.

And one word as to cooking, John—
Your wife can do that best;
For love, to make the biscuits rise,
Is better far than yeast.
No matter if each day you don't
Bring turkey to the same,
'Twill better relish by and by,
When you are better able.

For all you buy pay money, John,
Money earned every day;
If you would have your life run smooth,
There is no better way.
A note to pay is an ugly thing
(If thing you choose to call it),
When it hangs o'er a man who has
No money in his wallet.

And now when you are married, John,
Don't try to ape the rich;
It took them many a toilsome year
To gain their envied niche;
And if you gain the summit, John,
Look well to your beginning,
And then will all you win repay
The care and toil of winning.

East Birmingham Council.

A regular monthly meeting of the Council of the borough of East Birmingham was held on Tuesday evening. Present: Messrs. J. S. Atkinson, James Beck, Joseph Erny, N. Jones, C. J. Schultz, G. E. Slocum and Burgess David Chess. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

The report of the Borough Treasurer was read and accepted.

A petition was presented from the property holders on Larkins alley, praying for the grading and paving of said alley; also, a petition from the property holders on Josephine street, asking for the grading and paving of that street. On motion of Mr. Slocum, both petitions were referred to the Street Committee.

S. J. Thomas, Street Commissioner, presented his pay roll for the month of July, as follows:

S. J. Thomas, for services rendered	$56 65
Wm. Evans " "	50 00
John Williams " "	37 00
Peter Shear " "	12 00
Total	$155 65

On motion of Mr. Erny warrants were ordered to be drawn on the Treasurer for the amounts specified.

The following bills were presented, and on motion of Mr. Schultz warrants were ordered to be drawn for the several amounts:

G. H. Leithead & Co., job printing	$100 00
P. R. Howley, for grading and paving	400 00
Chess, Smyth & Co., for hauling, &c.	115 71
A. & J. McKenna, for dray plates	30 00
H. Myers, for lighting lamps	5 00
Total	$650 71

A communication was read from Mr. Stengel, Street Regulator, in relation to some errors in the plan of the Borough, which, on motion of Mr. Slocum, was referred to the Street Committee.

Mr. Stengel, Street Regulator, presented the bill of measurement for the grading of Joseph street, from Carson to Josephine streets, in favor of contracting to P. R. Howley, for 3,066 cubic yards at 37 cents per cubic yard, aggregating $1,130 72.

The report of the Committee on Fire Plugs and Hose was read, accepted and ordered to be filed.

On motion of Mr. Schultz, a committee consisting of Messrs. Schultz and Beck were appointed to purchase five hundred feet of hose, at such price and quality as the committee may deem best for borough use.

On motion of Mr. Beck, it was resolved that a fire plug be placed at the corner of Mary and Joseph streets, and also one at the corner of Wharton and Joseph streets.

Mr. Slocum, chairman of the Finance Committee, presented an ordinance relative to certain alterations necessary in making accounts of paving, which, on motion of Mr. Schultz, was adopted.

On motion of Mr. Jones, G. W. Fennell was appointed as borough lamp lighter, to fill the place occasioned by the death of Henry Myers.

On motion, Council adjourned.

Sentences in the U. S. District Court.

This Court assembled yesterday morning at the usual hour, Hon. Wilson McCandless occupying the bench, when the following sentences were passed:

The first prisoner called up was William Dalzell. He was convicted on a charge of passing and dealing in counterfeit money, having disposed of a large number of bogus notes on the First National Bank of Portland, which flooded this section of the country months previous to the arrest of Dalzell, as well as that of a host of other counterfeiters, who were convicted at the present and last terms of the United States Court. On Tuesday the counsel for the prisoner made a motion for a new trial, but it was overruled by the Court yesterday morning. The prisoner is an old transgressor, being over sixty-five years of age, and has been tried upon two former occasions for manufacturing counterfeit coin. He was convicted on one of these charges, and sentenced to the Penitentiary for one year. The first of these cases was tried some twenty years ago, when he was defended by Judge McCandless, whose duty it now becomes to mete out justice to the prisoner. Previous to passing the sentence, His Honor remarked that it was his plain duty to administer justice as a warning to evil doers in the future. The Court then sentenced Dalzell to pay a fine of one thousand dollars, and undergo an imprisonment for the term of seven years in the Western Penitentiary.

The next prisoner brought up for sentence was John McCleery. McCleery is also an aged man, and an old transgressor, having already served a term in the Western Penitentiary. It will be remembered that some time since he was arrested by constable Thomas, while lying beastly intoxicated in the Diamond market. He was conveyed to the lock-up, and on being searched there was found in his possession a roll of counterfeit fractional currency, consisting of three hundred dollars in fifty cent notes. McCleery's arrest led to Dalzell's apprehension, when the latter made a full confession of his connection with counterfeiting. When McCleery was arraigned for trial, he plead guilty. McCleery was convicted in 1859 of counterfeiting gold coin, and was sentenced to five years imprisonment in the Penitentiary. Through the application of some prominent citizens of Allegheny, he was pardoned by the President before he served the term for which he had been sentenced. Judge McCandless remarked, before passing sentence, that the prisoner was entitled to some consideration from the Court owing to the developments he had made, but the history of his past life rendered it necessary that he should receive punishment for his crime. McCleery was then sentenced to pay a fine of five hundred dollars, and undergo an imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for the term of seven years.

After sentence had been passed, the prisoners were remanded to the custody of the Marshal. They were conveyed to the Penitentiary during the afternoon. Truly, "the way of the transgressor is hard."

The cases on the docket for trial having all been disposed of, the present term of Court will be brought to a close to-day, and the jury discharged.

Fight in Church Alley—A Woman Stabbed.

On Tuesday night a row occurred in Church alley, during which a woman named Lucy Smith was stabbed in the face with a knife, in the hands of one of the party and severely injured. It appears that a disagreement has existed for some time between certain residents of Cherry and Strawberry alleys, which has given rise to various suits before the Mayor and Aldermen. At a late hour on Tuesday night four residents of Strawberry alley, named Walter McMichaels, David Andy, Henry Ochs, and Sarah Loughrey, concluded to make a raid upon the Harrington family, who occupy a tenement house on Cherry alley. Upon arriving at the house they commenced an assault upon Peter and Thomas Harrington, which resulted in the defeat of the assaulting party who retired in good order. They returned, however, in a few minutes and recommenced the contest, during which Miss Lucy Smith, who was assisting to defend the Harrington ranch, was struck in the face with a knife, inflicting a wound on one of her cheeks two inches in length. An information was made yesterday before the Mayor against the assaulting party, when they were arrested and held to bail for a hearing this evening.

Outrageous Assault in Birmingham.

On Monday night an outrageous assault was committed in Birmingham, resulting in the severe injury of Mr. Charles Sietz. Seitz is employed as night watchman at the Glass Works of Messrs. T. B. Atterbury & Co., on the corner of Carson and McKee streets, Birmingham, and states that on Monday night, about 11 o'clock, two men named George Arensburg and Thomas Goldthorp, residents of Birmingham, attacked him at the works without any provocation whatever, striking him, knocking him down, beating him and then kicking him in the face, injuring him very severely. He was taken to his residence in Birmingham, when it was found that he had been most brutally beaten. Dr. Toddy was sent for, who attended to the injuries of Sietz. Mr. Atterbury yesterday appeared before Burgess J. Salisbury, of Birmingham, and made an information against Arensburg and Goldthorp, charging them with aggravated assault and battery. Warrants were placed in the hands of an officer, who proceeded to the house of the accused, but discovered they were not there, and it is probable they may have fled to avoid arrest.

New Railroad Project to Pittsburgh.

Saturday last, a number of residents on the south side of the county of Beaver, met in Phillipsburg, and organized by choosing A. J. Jolly Chairman and F. Le Goullon, Secretary.

On motion, it was resolved to appoint committees consisting each of two citizens of the different districts directly concerned in a railroad on the south side of the county, for the purpose of ascertaining of the land owners on the route to the line of Allegheny county, their intentions and opinions respecting the giving of the right of way free to any railroad company to build the road. The following persons were appointed as these committees: For the borough of Phillipsburg, A. J. Jolly and Jacob Stroheckér; Moon township, John R. M'Donald and Allen Brooks; Hopewell township, Wm. Irons, Jas. C. Ritchie, Valentine Shan.

Adjourned to meet on Saturday, the 25th day of August, at the Lower Logstown public school house, at 2 o'clock P. M.

Refused to Pay City License.

Mr. Benj. Trimble, formerly proprietor of the "Varieties," on Penn street, was held to bail yesterday by the Mayor on a charge of refusing to pay city license. A bill for twenty dollars for license for the month of July being presented to him, he declined to pay it, on the ground that as he had his establishment open only ten days during the month, a corresponding reduction should be made. Mr. Mercer, the Mayor's clerk, then amended the bill according to the ordinance, charging him five dollars for each night he had his establishment open during the month. Mr. Trimble also declined to liquidate this bill, when proceedings were entered against him for refusing to pay his license, the penalty for which is a fine of fifty dollars. At the hearing the Mayor gave judgment against Mr. Trimble for the amount of the fine, when an appeal was taken, and the case will be carried to court.

SEVERE FALL.—Yesterday morning, between nine and ten o'clock, a young man named W. H. Hager, employed at Wm. H. Steffee's tobacco manufactory, No. 134 Wood street, fell through a hatchway from the third to the first story, a distance of about twenty-five feet, injuring himself severely on the back and spine, besides sustaining severe internal injuries. The injured man was removed to his boarding house, on Second street, and afterwards taken to the Mercy Hospital. He had been in this city about a year, but was originally from Waynesburg, where his parents reside.

BEFORE MAYOR McCARTHY.—A young man named Michael Sullivan, was arrested yesterday afternoon, at the Union Depot, by officer John Fox, for disorderly conduct. The Mayor imposed a fine of three dollars and costs upon him, and in default of payment committed him to jail for three days. Amos Diffinbacher, a wagonmaker in Diamond street, above Smithfield, was fined two dollars and costs, for permitting wagons to remain in front of his premises for a longer time than provided for in the city ordinance.

OIL MEN IN COLD WATER.—A couple of oil dealers yesterday determined to have a trial of their skill with the sculls on the Allegheny river. The contest, however, was cut short by the capsizing of one of the boats, and the spilling out of its occupant, much to his disgust. The gentleman was attempting to solve for himself whether oil and water would mix, and he is satisfied with the result.

SPECIAL CAUTION.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has become so popular that various parties have put out articles calling them Mrs. Winslow's. Please take notice that the Mrs. Winslow of the Soothing Syrup is not connected with any other article. 3

Stabbing Affair at Wellsville—Probable Homicide—The Perpetrator Delivers Himself into Custody.

On Tuesday night, about ten o'clock, a serious affray occurred at Wellsville, Ohio, which may probably result in the death of a man named Torrence. The particulars of the affair as stated appear to be these: At the time stated three men, named William Nevins, George Apple, and a young man named Koins, from the Cleveland oil well, were returning from the theatre, when they passed Torrence at Daniel's corner. Torrence made some insulting remarks as they passed, which the party took no notice of, and he followed them, catching Apple by the collar. Torrence soon left Apple and started for Nevins, the latter stepping into the street telling him he would have nothing to do with him, when Torrence approached and struck him. Nevins then drew a knife and stabbed Torrence six times in the left side, the most dangerous wound being in the groin. The wounded man was taken to Wells's drug store, where he was attended by Dr. Hammond, and at last accounts was living, with but very little hopes of his recovery.

Nevins immediately went to the Whitacre House, gave an account of the affair, and asked to be arrested. The Mayor shortly appeared, and Nevins was taken to the New Lisbon jail, as there is no lock-up in Wellsville. Nevins had his little finger nearly cut off during the scuffle. Torrence is a single man about thirty-five years of age, and is stated to be a hard character. He is now under $1,500 bail to appear at the next term of Court to answer a charge of shooting Mr. Whitacre, proprietor of the Whitacre House, and David Watson, his clerk, on the 26th of November last. Nevins is a married man, has borne a good reputation, and was employed at Treusdell's oil well, on Yellow Creek.

Our National Game.

A match game of base ball was played between the "Mutual" Club of East Liberty, and the "Would-if-We-Could" of Allegheny, on Tuesday afternoon, resulting in the success of the Mutuals, the score standing: Mutual, 47; Would-if-We-Could, 41.

A game will take place this afternoon, at two o'clock, between the "I. X. L." and "Leader" Clubs of Lawrenceville, on the grounds of the former.

A new base ball club, styled the "Good Will," has been organized in Allegheny, and the following officers chosen:—President, Joseph Wiggins; Vice President, C. Miller; Secretary, J. W. Reed; Pitcher, Geo. Lane; Catcher, Sam'l. Reed.

The second match game for the championship of Western Pennsylvania, will take place to-morrow afternoon, at half past three o'clock, on the West Common, Allegheny, between the Enterprise and Allegheny Clubs. The contest was for a series of three games, the club making two games being proclaimed the victor. One game has already been played. The game to-morrow will, no doubt, be quite interesting and exciting, and it is expected a large crowd of spectators will be present to witness the contest.

A match between the First and Second Nine, of the Lincoln Base Ball Club, will take place on their grounds this afternoon at four o'clock.

Central Board of Education.

The Central Board of Education held a regular meeting on Tuesday evening, Present—Messrs. Lowe, Getty, Nobbs, McAuley and President Brush.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The Secretary reported that warrants to the amount of $783 19 had been drawn for the month of July.

The committee appointed to engage a female teacher for the High School, reported the selection of Miss Heppey Wilkins for that position. On motion of Mr. McAuley, Miss Wilkins was declared elected to fill the vacancy.

On motion of Mr. Getty, Miss M. Ware was elected teacher in the colored Schools.

The following bills were presented and warrants ordered to be drawn for the several amounts: McFarland, Collins & Co., for carpets, oil cloths, &c., $123 50; Shidle & Son, for wall paper, $9; John B. Ciuley, for painting blackboards, $17.

On motion adjourned.

A Marriage Under Difficulties.

Mr. George Johnston, of this county, and Miss Emily Shane, of Ohio, were married in Wheeling, on Monday. The Intelligencer, in noticing the marriage, says the couple loved wisely and well. They were infatuated with each other, and desired the approval of their attachment by the friends of the lady. But these friends were perverse—they refused to hear of the fascinating Johnston becoming one of them. What could be done? Some foolish legislators once made a foolish law that all parties desiring to enter the holy estate of matrimony within the limits of the State of Ohio, should first procure license. But the lady was of tender age—her parent wouldn't give his consent—the thing was out of the question in Ohio. She was a brave girl, however, and with her prospective husband proceeded to Wheeling, where the knot was tied. The happy couple then started for this city, the groom avowing that he did not care what his new relatives thought of the transaction.

SANITARY CONDITION OF ALLEGHENY.—Six butchers were before Alderman Lindsay, of the Third ward, Allegheny, yesterday, charged on oath of Assistant Street Commissioner Dilworth, with maintaining nuisances on their premises, in the shape of slaughter-houses. Upon promising to abate the nuisances, the Alderman discharged them, after the costs of suit had been liquidated. Mr. Dilworth has only held the position of Assistant Street Commissioner for a few weeks, but he has already had thirty-four cases of nuisance before Alderman Lindsay. He is an efficient officer, and is rendering full satisfaction to the Councils.

THE FIRE ALARM TELEGRAPH.—Messrs. Kinnard & Co., who were awarded the contract for the erection of the new fire alarm telegraph in this city, have not yet commenced operations, owing to a difficulty in securing the necessary poles. They have, however, succeeded in obviating that difficulty, and the work will be commenced early next week. The alarm bell, which it is proposed to erect in a tower in the Court House yard, has been completed by Messrs. A. Fulton & Co., and will be ready for delivery in a few days. It will weigh when finished twenty-five hundred pounds.

UNION COUNTY COMMITTEE.—There will be a meeting of the Union Republican Executive Committee of Allegheny county, to-morrow afternoon, at the office of Bayne & Shafer, 105 Fifth street. The preliminary arrangements for the mass demonstration in September will be made, and it is desired that all the members of the Committee be present.

ECONOMITE HARVEST HOME.—The members of the Society at Economy, propose holding a Harvest Home to-day at their village, eighteen miles from this city, confining the festivities to the members of the Society.

Police Items.

BEFORE ALDERMAN DONALDSON.—Wm. Calvin was before this Alderman yesterday, charged with committing an assault and battery upon a son of Henry Myers. Mary Myers, sister to Henry, also charged Calvin with surety of the peace. He was held for a hearing in both cases. John Lutz made an information charging Mary McDonough with selling liquor on Sunday, contrary to the act of Assembly. The defendant was held in the sum of three hundred dollars bail for her appearance at court to answer the charge, in default of which she was committed to jail.

BEFORE ALDERMAN MORROW.—Fidel Weis complained yesterday before Alderman Morrow, of the Eighth ward, against a man named Little, a driver in the employ of Frank Rahm, Esq., for malicious mischief. Weis alleges that Little did maliciously knock a wheel off the prosecutor's wagon. A warrant was issued for the arrest of Little, who resides at Soho.

BEFORE JUSTICE AMMON.—Samuel Richards made information before Justice A. Ammon, of East Birmingham, yesterday, charging Michael McGovern with assault and battery. Richards alleges that McGovern attacked him at Beck's Run, on Monday evening, beating him and striking him with such force as to deprive him of the use of his left arm. McGovern was arrested and held to bail for trial. B. Krugh charged Constantine Backenmeyer with fraud. Krugh alleges that Buckenmeyer engaged him to help to work at some job painting for R. J. Taylor, promising to pay the prosecutor when he would receive his money from Taylor. Krugh alleges that Buckenmeyer obtained his money from Taylor, but refused to pay him for the work done, his bill amounting to $73 50. He entered bail for a hearing. Caroline Fisher made oath charging Frederick Neff with larceny as bailee. The parties occupied the same dwelling in Birmingham, and the prosecutrix alleges that she loaned to Neff three chairs and a table, which he removed and refused to deliver up. He gave $300 bail to answer at Court. Leonard Moritz was held to bail to keep the peace, on complaint of C. Feld. Moritz was also committed to jail for ten days in default of the payment of a fine for disorderly conduct.

Public Amusements.

THE OPERA HOUSE.—The improvements made in the Opera House during the summer vacation are of the most substantial and pleasing character. The auditorium has been refurnished with elegant cushioned chairs, and decorated in a beautiful manner. The stage has been cut down eleven inches and widened some three feet, so that everything thereon can be seen from any part of the house. The private boxes have been refurnished, and are now the coziest of cosy places from which to witness the play and players. The place allotted to the orchestra chairs has been enlarged, and will be handsomely seated. The scenery has all been retouched, but there are many new scenes of striking beauty, while the properties are all new and of a costly character. The principal entrance has been very much improved, and will be further beautified with a magnificent chandelier of sixteen lights. The lighting arrangement outside is on a grand scale, and the words "Opera House," in prismatic lights, will inform the public of its location. Altogether the arrangements of the interior and exterior have been made on a liberal scale, and reflect much credit upon the taste and energy of Mr. Clapp, who superintended them. Mr. C. D. Hess, who has the exclusive management of the Opera House, and nearly all the members of the stock company, arrived yesterday. The season will commence Saturday evening.

TRIMBLE'S VARIETIES.—This favorite place of amusement was re-opened last evening under the management of Mr. Wm. C. Smythe, and was filled to repletion. The company is undoubtedly the best that has ever appeared in this establishment, and a number of first class artists have been engaged, who will appear during the season. Mr. Smythe fully understands the wants of the amusement-loving public, and will be ably assisted by Fred Aims, whom he has secured as manager. The programme for to-night embraces ballets, dances, eccentricities, &c.

OAKLAND PARK.—A grand trot will take place this afternoon at Oakland Park, between three well-known horses, for a purse of fifty dollars. Rare sport may be expected.

A NEW FRUIT DRYING HOUSE.—The Louisville (Ky.) Courier says that an ingenious arrangement for drying fruit, has been introduced in that city. It is a small house four and a half feet high and three feet wide, containing eight slat bottomed drawers, each capable of containing half a bushel of fruit. At the bottom of the house is a sheet iron cylinder, about two feet in length and ten inches in diameter, to receive the fire needed for drying. The stove pipe from this fireplace passes up through the machine, making several bends, and terminating in a neat little chimney on top. The machine is calculated to dry four bushels of peaches or apples in four hours, and only a few handfuls of fire will be needed in the operation. By a large number of ventilators it is so arranged that the temperature can be regulated exactly as wished. Beans, corn, or anything else can be also dried in it. It occupies about the space of an ordinary bureau.

THE London correspondent of the Chicago Tribune moralizes somewhat gloomily on the effect of the late Hyde Park demonstrations, and bewails in orthodox fashion the abject condition of the British laborer, remarking that "there is no force which would bring up the day laborers of England like that immense wave of thought which is called into action in America by political discussion." On the continent according to the same authority all is quiet, excepting that Prussia is determined upon the subjugation of Bavaria, which latter, naturally enough, seems anxious only to resent any such intrusion.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

WEDNESDAY, August 15—P. M.

The most important change to note in the New York quotations to-day is the sharp upward turn in Western Union Telegraph stock. It opened at 56¼, but at the afternoon board became very much excited, and 58¾ was freely bid at the close. The whole list was very strong, and a tendency toward high prices prevailed generally. Ten-Forties touched a higher point than they have ever yet done, selling up to 100¼. Gold is also advancing, and the general impression seems to be that a much higher figure will be reached. It is reported as very scarce, and from 1-16 to ¼ per day is paid for the use of it. The calculations by the bulls, however, may be interfered with, if Secretary McCulloch, who has been absent, shall conclude to throw on the market the gold now in the Treasury.

—The following are the New York Stock Exchange morning quotations; Gold, 150¾; Eighty-ones, 110¼; Five-twenties, 109¾; Ten-Forties, 108¼; Seven-Thirties, 105¾; Michigan Southern, 85¼; Cleveland and Pittsburgh, 86¼; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago, 104; Erie, 69; Western Union Telegraph, 56¼; Bennehoff (oil), 6¾; Pithole, 1¾; United States, 8; Gregory (gold), 18; Parmalee, 9.

—A small list of Bank and Insurance stocks and City and County Bonds attracted a number of bidders last evening at McIlwaine's regular weekly stock sales. A lot of 20 shares Second National Bank sold at 116, and 11 shares Bank of Pittsburgh, at 67. There were no bids for any of the Insurance stocks offered. City and County Bonds appeared to attract the most competition, and $1,000 of the old municipal City Sixes due in 1869, sold for 89½; $2,000 of the Compromise Fives at 72, and $2,000 Allegheny County Fives at 73½. These were the fifty year bonds. A $1,000 twenty year bond was held over under a bid of 74. This class of securities is growing in favor with capitalists, and is a convenient investment, readily convertible when occasion demands.

—Copper stocks during the past week were very active at the Boston Board. The following list shows the prices July 28, August 4 and August 11, with the variation in prices between last Saturday and to-day:

	July 28.	Aug. 4.	Aug. 11.	Variation.
Bay State	12¾	14	13½	Declined ½
Copper Falls	40	44	48½	Advanced 4½

Winthrop	1⅝	1⅜	1¾	Advanced ⅜

—The following comparative statement shows the average condition of the leading items of the Philadelphia Banks for the past and previous week:

	Last Week.	This Week.

Circulation	9,516,724	9,543,472	Inc.	26,748

With the exception of a decrease of $634,808 in deposits, and $333,291 in legal tender notes, the leading items of the banks ruled quite steady last week. The loans, the circulation, and the specie each increased moderately. In the way of discounting legitimate business paper the banks have not much to do. The heaviest borrowers just now are some of the largest improvement companies.

—The following shows the condition of the New York city banks this week and last:

Loans	$256,808,717	$258,263,063	Inc	$1,454,346

PITTSBURGH GENERAL MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY COMMERCIAL, THURSDAY, August 16, 1866.

BUSINESS—The market yesterday was tolerably active, there being an improved demand for most of the leading articles. The present rise in the rivers will improve trade very materially. An August rise is rather an unusual occurrence; such, however, is the fact. The coalboats that were detained on account of low water, will be enabled to reach port and get ready for a return trip. The weather has been unusually pleasant for the season of the year. Business on the landing is reviving. Several boats are announced for the lower ports, among them are the Importer for St. Paul, and the Yorktown for St. Louis; they will have dispatch; should the river continue to rise other boats will, no doubt, follow. The Parkersburg packets are all again on the track. Flour—The market yesterday was very firm with a good demand for home purposes and for export. A rise in the Allegheny is certain to improve the demand for this article. Bacon—The market was active yesterday with a good demand for home purposes and a fair demand for export. Prices have undergone no change. The present stock will soon be exhausted; the next question is where to obtain an additional supply. Grain—Holders were firm in their views. Oats and Wheat are being held at an advance. The stock on the market is not large. Apples—The market was inactive. Below will be found the sales that came under our notice:

HAY—The market yesterday was not very active, the sales being on a limited scale; sales 15 loads new at $20@22 ₱ ton.

LEAD—We continue to notice a steady market, with a fair demand; sales 300 pigs Galena at 12c. The stock on hand is not very large.

MALT—The market was steady but not very active; sales in a regular way at $1 50 per bush.

PAPER BAGS—Since the high prices of every article manufactured from cotton has become a matter of history, the manufacture of paper Bags has been carried on very extensively. The following are the quotations as charged for flour: Quarter barrel, 7c each; eighth do, 4½c; sixteenth, 3½c; other sizes in proportion.

GRAIN—The market was firm since our last, with a good demand, particularly for wheat and oats. The advance we have previously noted has been maintained. Among the sales were the following: Oats—20 bush. 50c, 10 do, same figure; 1 car do, shipping, 55c; sales were made from store at the usual advance. MESS PORK—Further sales were reported at $33 50 ₱ bbl. The market was not very active.

POTATOES—The market continues to be well supplied. Sales of 80 bbls at $2 75@3 00 ₱ bbl; 100 bush do, 80c ₱ bush.

BUTTER—The demand has fallen off. We note regular sales at 24@26c, as per quality.

CHEESE—The market continues to be well supplied with the various descriptions. As prices have undergone no change we omit them.

Groceries.

A good trade is still doing in this line, with a firm market for all descriptions of goods. In sugars holders are firm at our quotations for grocers' grades. Refined are a shade easier. Strictly prime Rio Coffee is scarce; common and good abundant. Speculative operations in Oolong Tea have been large in the eastern market during the last week, and a decided stiffness in prices is the consequence. Green less active, but prices hold strong. Sovereign Syrup has declined. We quote:

COFFEE—Fair Rio, 26c; good do, 29c; prime, 31c; choice, 32c; Laguayra, 33c; Old Government Java, 42c; common Java, 39c.

PITTSBURGH OIL TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY COMMERCIAL, THURSDAY, August 16, 1866.

The market yesterday was steady with a fair demand for crude. Buyers were offering lower prices. Holders, however, were not disposed to give way. They were disposed to hold out for previous quotations. Bulk may be quoted at 14@14½c; packages returned, same prices; packages included, 19½@20c. Yesterday's sales reached 2,000 bbls. The receipts during the same period were 3 223 bbls. The river to Oil City is now in fine boating order. Pretty heavy receipts are looked for during the present and coming week. It will take a large amount of oil to fill the contracts already entered into by oil dealers during low water. The crude sales were 700 bbls bulk at 14½c; 300 do light oil at 14c; 800 do bulk at 14½c, and 200 do at 14½c, packages returned.

FAMILY MARKET.

LIVING EXPENSES IN PITTSBURGH.

CAREFULLY REVISED EVERY WEDNESDAY.

OFFICE OF THE COMMERCIAL, WEDNESDAY, August 15, 1866.

Under the pressure of increasing receipts of vegitables there is a decline in the price of most articles. One week ago, Tomatoes readily commanded 40 cents per half peck, for a first choice article, but they were dull to-day at 15 cents. Green Corn is coming forward quite liberally, and sells for 15 and 20 cents per dozen, though a few very choice lots brought 25 cents. Sweet Potatoes are coming in from New Jersey, as yet, however, very sparingly, and retail for 40 cents per quarter peck, they costing the seller $14 00 per barrel at the depot. At the store of M. McGinley, 27½ Fifth street, we observed, last evening, very choice article of Grapes of the following varieties: Deacon Superb, White Chaalas, Golden and Black Hamburg, Black Prince and Sweet Water, which were selling off rapidly at $1 00 per pound. These are the first offerings of the season, and are very fine. The receipts of Peaches are considerable, but they are of a very inferior quality, being generally much bruised, decayed or stale. Some very good Pears were for sale, though they were generally scarce. Cantaloupes are more abundant in supply, and command, for first choice articles, $2 00 per dozen. The supply of Poultry is quite moderate, in fact, inadequate to the demand, even at the high prices for which it is selling. There is no game in market. The supply of Fresh Fish is extremely small. Butter still holds its own; farmers getting from 40 to 50 cents per pound for Print. Choice Roll, 35 to 37 cents. Eggs are declining under liberal receipts. Flour, Groceries, Meats, &c., are unchanged in price. The following are the retail prices of articles of a first-class quality:

Wool Markets.

PITTSBURGH, August 14.—Prices in this market are altogether nominal. In fact, there is no wool market here, as growers and purchasers are so far apart in their views, that there are no sales. Growers are looking forward for prices much ahead of those now offered, and buyers seem indifferent about purchasing. Nominally we quote common, 45c; medium 50c, and fine 55c.

CINCINNATI, August 14.—There is little or nothing doing. Farmers refuse to accept present prices, and merchants are indifferent about purchasing, as Eastern prices will hardly justify the present rates. We still quote:

Ohio and Indiana—Coarse, 35a40c; medium, 43a47c; fine, 48a50c.

Kentucky—Unwashed, 25a30c; washed, 40a45c; tub washed, 43a50c; pulled, 35a40c.

Tennessee—Unwashed, 25a30c.

Illinois—Coarse, 38a42c; medium, 42a45c; fine, 45a50c.

LOUISVILLE, August 13.—Buyers are paying 30 to 32c for unwashed fleece, in lots, while washed ranges from 46 to 48c, and picked lots at 50c.

NEW YORK, August 14.—An improved demand prevails for domestic and foreign Wools, which are offered more freely and at rather easier yet irregular prices. The available supply of domestic fleece is liberal; of other kinds moderate. We quote the prices as follows:

OHIO, PENNSYLVANIA AND VIRGINIA.

Choice Saxony fleece	70a75
Saxony fleece	65a70
Full blood fleece	60a65
½ and ¾ blood fleece	56a58
Native and ¼ fleece	52a54
Common fleece

CHICAGO, August 14.—The Tribune says:—Received to-day, 35,640 lbs, shipped, 35,908 lbs. There is no change in the tone or condition of the market since our last report. Holders are generally firm in their views, and refuse to respond to the demands of buyers. Occasionally a lot is placed at a concession, but this does not happen often enough to command a change in our quotations. We hear of a sale to day of 25,000 lbs fine fleece—said to be one of the nicest lots in the city—at 52c.

DETROIT, MICHIGAN, August 14.—The market throughout the State remains dull and stagnant. Our dealers collect here and there small lots, amounting in the aggregate, however, to no considerable quantity. One has purchased within the last ten days perhaps 60 000 lbs at 50c. One or two others also operate in a small way taking in what is offering at acceptable prices. Further than that no activity is manifest.

Louisville Markets.

August 13.—Coal—Stocks only fair, and we quote at 17a18c afloat. Retail sales of Pittsburgh 21c, or $6 00 per load of 25 bushels, delivered. Pomeroy coal to boats 16c.

Cattle—The market was quite active during the week, and the cattle offered for sale generally common, but the demand being fair, few remained unsold. The prices are ranging from 6 to 6½c for good, and 5 to 5½c for medium; 3 to 3½c for common and rough.

Hogs—The market is firm at from 10 to 10½c, and 8½ to 9½c for good stock hogs. An extra lot of good fat hogs sold this week for $11 00 per hundred, gross.

Hemp—We have no sales, and quote undressed nominally at $250a260 per ton; choice dressed hemp $300 and upwards.

Iron and Nails—Manufactured iron and nails are unchanged this week, closing firm with sales of nails, 10d, in lots, at $7 25a7 50. We quote bar iron at 5¼a6½c, hoop iron at 6½a7½c, sheet iron at 7¼a9c, nail rods at 10a12½c, and boiler iron at 15c. Pig iron is sustained and rather active, with receipts of 30 tons. A sale of 120 tons hot blast at $51a55 per ton.

Oil—We quote linseed at $1 75a1 80 at the mill. Lard oil ranges from $1 50 to 1 60 for the different qualities.

Provisions and Lard—The market for pork, though not firm, has been quiet all the week, with sales of light lots at $33, though generally quoted at $32 50. Bacon has been active all the week, and sales steady at full rates, including sales to-day of 30 casks shoulders at 17c; 20 casks clear sides at 21¼c; 3 tierces plain hams at 23½c, and 10 tierces Magnolia hams, sugar cured, at 25c, and a sale of 10 tierces sugar cured hams at 24a24½c. Lard is more active and firmer, with a sale of 20 tierces at 21¼c. Among the transactions yesterday were sales of 35 casks shoulders, in lots, all at 17c; 20 casks clear ribbed sides at 20½c; 25 casks at the same, and 15 casks at 20¼c; sales of 40 casks clear sides at 21¼c; 5 tierces plain hams, in canvas, at 23c; 10 tierces sugar cured at 24a25c, and 100 Magnolia hams at 25c. Lard firm, with a sale of 20 tierces at 21c, and 25 kegs at 24c.

Whisky—We quote new raw, free, firm at $2 25, with considerable sales to-day and yesterday at that rate.—Democrat.

Cincinnati Live Stock Market.

August 14.—At the Brighton pens the total receipts of Beef cattle were about 1 290 head against 1 190 the previous week. The prices of the previous week were sustained up to Saturday, but to-day there were 775 head in the market, which was considerably more than was anticipated, and prices declined somewhat. The cattle were of a good average quality, and there was an active demand from butchers, feeders and shippers; and by noon there were not over 150 head left unsold, and this number was somewhat reduced before night.

Quotations per 100 pounds Gross Weight.—Common $1 00a5 00; fair $5 75a6 25 prime 6 25a6 75, extra, a few at $7 00.

Hogs—The receipts were moderate, and the demand being active they were all sold as soon as received at full prices. We quote stock hogs at $9 50a10 00, and extra butcher hogs at $10 25a10 75 ₱ 100 lbs gross.

Sheep—The receipts were light, but the demand was not large, and prices ruled steady at $3 00a4 50 ₱ 100 lbs live weight, for good to prime qualities.

At the Ashbrook pens, the receipts were of cattle 386 head for the Cincinnati market, and 400 head for the New York market. The receipts of Sheep were 1,760 head, and of Hogs 182 head.

Baltimore Grocery Market.

August 14.—Coffee—The demand is active, although we have no sales of moment to report. The sales include 200 bags Rio, in lots, at 19½a19¾c; 50 bags do at 20c, currency. We quote Laguayra at 18¾a19c, and Java 25a26c, gold.

Molasses—Nothing doing; market steady at former quotations.

Rice—Is in limited demand at 4a4½c, gold, for Rangoon; 10a10½c, currency, duty paid, and 12½a13c for Carolina, the latter being very scarce.

Sugar—The market is firm and importers are asking higher rates, to which purchasers do not readily respond. The sales include 50 hhds Porto Rico on private terms, and 100 hhds various kinds, in lots, at 12½a14c; refining is held at 11½c for good, but we hear of no sales.

Chicago Wheat Market.

The Chicago Republican of Tuesday says: In consequence of the gloomy character of the news with regard to the Wisconsin wheat crop, the wheat market in this city yesterday advanced 10a14c per bushel—Northwestern No. 1 spring selling as high as $1 92 per bushel, and regular No. 1 spring at $1 84—the latter grade closing in the evening nominal at $1 61.

Grease—There has been a quiet market without essential change. We quote brown at 10¼a12c; yellow at 12a13½c, and white at 14a16c.

Iron, Steel and Nails—The market remains steady in all its branches. Stocks of pig iron are not accumulating, although the receipts have been unusually large for the summer months, and this fact gives a firm tone to the market. We quote pig: Hot blast foundry iron at $48a50; mill iron at $40a40. Tennessee cold blast at $53a55, and car wheel iron at $65a70 ₱ ton. Manufactured flat, round and square bar, boiled 5½c; do charcoal, 6½c ₱ lb; sheet iron, Nos 10 to 17, boiled, 7¼c; charcoal 10¼c. Horse shoes, $8 00a8 50 ₱ keg. Mule shoes, $9a9 50 ₱ keg. Steel—American cast, 30c; American cast spring steel, 14½c; imported tool steel, 26c ₱ lb.

Nails—There is a steady demand. We quote 10d to 60d, $7 00 ₱ keg; 8d to 9d, $7 25; 6d to 7d, $7 50; 4d to 5d, $7 75; 3d, $8 00; 2d, $9 00; 3d fine, $9 00; spikes $7 25; casing nails $7 50a8 00; finishing nails, $8 00a9 00, less 10 per cent. on lots of 100 kegs.

Oil—The supply of Linseed Oil has been light all the week, and the market has ruled firm at $1 65a1 68 ₱ gallon, closing firm at $1 68a1 70. Lard Oil continues in fair request at $1 75 for extra, and $1 35a1 70 for lower grades. Refined Petroleum still sells at 55a58c ₱ gallon, city paid.

Provisions—Mess pork was kept in very firm position early in the week with transactions at $32 00 and a reserve on the part of the sellers. It subsequently became easy at that figure, but to-day considerable sales made it firm again.

After advancing to 21c Lard became dull, and has since remained inactive.

Bulk meats have been in but moderate demand. Quotations have remained steady at 15c for Shoulders; 17½a17½c for sides; 19½c for clear sides.

Bacon Shoulders were advanced to 17c soon after our last weekly review, but sales at that have been rather limited and mostly in the filling of small orders, at 19½a19½c; clear Sides are now to be had at 21c, though lately held in reserve at that.

Hams have remained firm, at 24a25c for sugar cured; 22c for plain canvassed and packed.

Tallow—The market continues steady, with a fair demand for country, at 11½a12c per pound, and 12¼c for city.

Whisky—There has been a more active demand for both bonded and free, and prices are firm for the latter at $2 26 ₱ gall. Bonded is in active demand, and the price has advanced to 28c per gall, with sales on Saturday of 500 bbls at that price.

Philadelphia Live Stock Market.

August 13.—The Cattle market was excessively dull this morning, owing, in a measure to the inclemency of the weather and the inferiority of the stock exposed for sale. Prices of good Cattle are a shade lower. The receipts are heavy, reaching about 2,300 head. The sales of common at 12a14c, fair to good at 15a16½c ₱ lb.

Sheep—The receipts reach about 15,000 head. The market is dull and sales are reported at 6a6½c per lb, gross.

Cows and Calves move slowly; sales of 200 head at $75a100 for cows and calves, and $50a70 for springers.

Hogs are active, and prices are well maintained; about 2 300 head sold at the different yards at from $15a16 50 the 100 lbs net, as to quality.

THE RIVER.—Last evening at twilight the marks indicated seven feet water and rising slowly. A number of light draught towboats are making ready to leave for the lower ports. Those that have light tows ready will be able to reach the lower ports.

THE light draught steamer "Advance," Capt. Carpenter, leaves this day for Zanesville and intermediate ports.

THE splendid passenger steamer Yorktown, Capt. Geo. W. Ebert, is announced this day for Cairo and St. Louis. This boat has the best of accommodations, and is in charge of as clever set of officers as can be found. Capt. Peppard and son will be found in the office.

THE fine new passenger steamer Importer, Captain John Noss, is announced for St. Louis and St. Paul, the first rise. She will take New Orleans freight, with the privilege of reshipping. The boat is one of the best of her class afloat, and is in charge of clever and attentive officers.

THE splendid side wheel passenger steamer, "Bayard," Captain George D. Moore, resumes her trips to Parkersburg this day. Since her last trip she has been placed in thorough and complete repair, and is just as good as new. The first clerk is Captain D. Moore, an officer who has no superior. Call early if you wish to secure a stateroom.

Cincinnati.

August 14.—We condense the following from the Enquirer:

The weather yesterday during the forenoon was cloudy, with indications of rain. About five o'clock a heavy shower fell, but had but little effect in cooling the atmosphere.

The river at this point still continues to decline rapidly, with less than six feet water in the channel.

The Cumberland is still falling, with less than twenty-eight inches water on the shoals.

Business on the landing yesterday was only fair to middling. Monday is always considered a dull day with shippers, and the reports of cholera in the city have had a great deal to do with the transaction of business. In river way it is about completely played out.

DULL TIMES.—But five boats were at the landing last evening, and but three out of that number were attempting to load. These are truly dull times.

THE FLEETWOOD will in a few days take the place of one of the Mail Line steamers, from this port to Louisville, until their new boat is finished.

PERSONAL.—We are glad to announce that Mr. Moult. Harvey is now able to be about after his severe spell of sickness.

The Commercial same date, says:

BOATS IN PORT.—The Ida Rees, Abeona, Celeste, Leonora, Armadillo and Sherman, are the only boats now in port.

Mr. John Riggs, the efficient River Policeman, died at his residence, of cholera, yesterday morning.

We regret to announce that the wife of Wm. H. Pierce, Inspector of Hulls in this city, died at her residence in this city, of cholera, yesterday afternoon.
